

Surname	Given Names	Publication Date
Blake	George	Apr 24 1891 p3

DIED.

BLAKE.—At his residence in Demersville on Tuesday, April 21st, George Blake, aged 33 years, of pneumonia following la grippe.

George Blake was born in New Hampshire and was for a number of years a business man at Albert Lea, Minn. Later he went to the Northwest Territory, from which place he finally drifted to Demersville. For the past four years he has been bartender for J. H. Foy and during the time he has gained hosts of friends. Kind-hearted and generous he was always a friend to the poor or oppressed. The bereaved wife and fatherless babe have the deep sympathy of the entire community.

English	Elizabeth	May 22 1891 p3
---------	-----------	----------------

DIED.

ENGLISH.—At her home in Demersville, of brain fever, resulting from la grippe, on Sunday, May 17th, 1891, Mrs. Elizabeth English, aged 38 years.

Mrs. English was a native of New Brunswick, where she was married to Dan English in 1870. She was a most estimable wife and mother and leaves nine children, the youngest only two years of age, the oldest 19 years old. Her death is the greatest sorrow that could befall her little ones, who have the earnest sympathy of the entire community.

Hellar	Adolph	May 1 1891 p3
--------	--------	---------------

DIED.

HELLAR.—At his mother's residence near Bad Rock canyon, on Friday, April 24th, 1891, of hemorrhage of the lungs, Adolph Hellar, aged 26 years.

The deceased had been sick all winter but did not think it anything serious and consequently did not seek medical aid until he was taken with a severe hemorrhage, when alas, it was too late. He has been a resident of the valley for the past five years and had many friends. He leaves a mother, brother and sister to mourn his demise.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to extend my sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly aided me during the sickness and death of my son. Their kindness will always be remembered.

MRS. M. HELLAR.

DIED.

LIFE—Charles A. Lipe, aged 32 years, died of mountain fever, at the Cliff House, Saturday, Sept. 20th, at 8 p. m., after an illness of several weeks. The deceased formerly lived at Devil's Lake, N. D., where he resided six years. He first engaged his services as book-keeper, for several months to the firm of Walsh & Nugent, railroad contractors, with whom he was connected at the time of his death, and with whom he done some extensive construction work on the Gallitan and Butte line of the N. P., and on the Elk Horn branch of the N. P. He was a young man of good business qualifications and great energy. He leaves a wife and one child who reside at Wyckoff, Southern Minn., and a mother and father living at Devil's Lake, N. Dakota. On the 22nd he was brought to the Cliff House where better accommodations could be afforded but the fever had secured too firm a hold. His employer, W. F. Nugent, remained with him through his sickness and did all in their power for his recovery. They speak highly of the friendly aid and kindness shown them, and the deceased, by the Cliff House and the people of Deereville. The funeral was well attended, the interment taking place in the new cemetery west of town from where the remains will be removed to the home of his parents at a later date.

McMillan

Dan G

Jul 31 1891 p2

DROWNED.

On last Monday, July the 27th, occurred the burial of D. G. McMillan, who was drowned in Swan river at rocky ford on the 20th inst. The particulars of the drowning, which we failed to get last week are as follows: The deceased was a young man of about 32 years of age and has a brother and sister in Sturgis, South Dakota. He was an Odd Fellow in good standing as was learned from a traveling card found on his person. On his person also, was found bank certificates of deposits and notes to the amount of about $3000. He was out on a prospecting tour and had been in company with two other parties, Otto L. Oleson and another prospector by the name of Geo. Parker. They started to ford the river, Parker having started for Missoula. McMillan was on one of the horses and Oleson helped to get them started into the water and then was going to take their camp outfit across on a raft. When part way across the horse McMillan was riding seemed to go under and slide from under him and letting go he caught the other horse by the mane. It is supposed that this horse struck him, from a bruised place found on his breast. He let go the horse but did not seem to struggle but soon sank and was seen no more until on Thursday when his body was raised by drag hooks after four days search by Oleson and Parker, whom Oleson over-took on his way to Missoula and who came back and assisted in the search. Dr. C. E. Depew and his men of Swan lake also assisting in the recovery of the body. An inquest was held by Dr. Depew and a verdict of death by accidental drowning was rendered. The body was brought here for burial last Saturday and was decently interred by the odd fellows, who showed great respect for their deceased brother, Rev. Fisher officiating at the burial. The odd fellows immediately took the matter into their hands and have written to his relation concerning the sad affair and his brother is expected here soon to take the body home. The odd fellows who assisted in the burial of their brother were: Peter Schumaker, J. W. Ferguson, I. A. Hall, J. Zettle and Gus Gamer.

VanDyke

William and wife

Aug 7 1891 p3

—Mr. William VanDyke an old settler on the east side, who has been ill for some time past of congestion of the liver was taken with hemorage of the lungs a few days ago and died last Tuesday morning. Mr. VanDyke has been a resident of the valley the past eight years and a hard working and honest farmer. Mrs. VanDyke is very poorly and was not able to attend the funeral. Several of the family also are almost confined to their beds.

LATER.—Since writing the above we are informed of the death of Mrs. VanDyke which occurred last Tuesday night at 10:30 p. m. and was buried Thursday Aug. 6th at 12 m. Mr. VanDyke was buried last Tuesday at 12 m., his wife dying at 12 following. Thus passed away the father and mother in a few hours of each other to their silent home leaving four small children between the ages of 8 years and 18 months of age. We are indebted to Mr. Samuel Lyons for the above particulars, who took an active part in helping in the funeral affairs.

Aug 14 1891 p3

Joseph Kountz, brother-in-law of the late Mrs. Wm. Vandyke was here this week for the purpose of taking charge of the children of the deceased.