Bradley    Ella    vs    Bradley    Thomas    27 Nov 1900 p3

Mrs. Ella Bradley, who was married April 4, 1900, to Thomas Bradley, yesterday told a story of cruel and inhuman treatment to Judge Smith, who did not hesitate to grant the divorce she was praying for. In her testimony she said that Thomas Bradley had deserted her. That while they had lived together he had threatened to kill her by shooting and often threw articles of furniture and china at her. In fact, if what she alleges is true, she has been most certainly cruelly treated. Bradley will be remembered as having been in business on First street east, and was under arrest last summer charged with robbery, but there was not sufficient evidence to convict him.

DIVORCED.
...arried Twelve Years—Happy Together Two Months.
Judge Smith granted Katie La Frambeau an absolute divorce from Joseph La Frambeau on the grounds of desertion. Her story was the old one of a few days happiness and then a lonely life for years. Twelve years ago Joseph promised to live with her always, but at the end of two months he vanished and has not been seen or heard from since. They were married at Maple Creek, Canada, in 1888.
