AGED CIVIL WAR VETERAN
KILLED AT COLUMBIA FALLS

Alex Monroe, an old gentleman who has made this city his home for the past five years, was killed last Friday morning by being struck by the engine of passenger train No. 3, as it was coming into the local station.

The old fellow had been making his home on the Schandler ranch east of this city and upon Friday morning was walking to town for provisions. As he approached the east side house track he stepped to one side to allow No. 3 to pass, but the fact that a freight train was standing upon the house track and left but little space between him and the moving passenger train, is believed to have caused him to become excited and he fell against the moving train, receiving injuries about the head from which he died shortly afterwards.

He was placed in the baggage car and taken to a Whitefish hospital, but life had expired before leaving the station. The unfortunate man was seventy-six years of age on January 8. He served two years in the United States navy and one year and three months in the infantry. He has a brother living in Canada, also one living in Vancouver, Wash.

He entered the Soldiers' home on November 21, 1910, and remained there until two years ago. He was born in Canada, October 31, 1839.—Columbian.

The man had gone to Paoli to apply for work and while walking along the side of the track was struck by the train, both legs being crushed. He was placed on board the train which started for Whitefish, but the man died before reaching Belton. It is thought that a sawmill which was operating near the scene of the accident drowned the noise of the train so that he didn't hear it approaching. Coroner Wagner was notified and brought the body to this city for interment. The man has no friends in this section so far as is known.

RANCHER KILLED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Z. S. NICHOLSON THROWN FROM WAGON AND MEETS ALMOST INSTANT DEATH

While returning from a fishing trip near Holt, Sunday afternoon, Z. S. Nicholson, a well known rancher of the lower valley, was almost instantly killed his uncle, J. W. Nicholson, was seriously injured and his wife narrowly escaped injury. The party had been spending the day near Henry Oldenburg's place, and were on their way home. When near the Holt ferry the team, without any apparent cause, became unmanageable, and started to run. When Mrs. Nicholson saw that the team was beyond control, she climbed into the back of the wagon and held onto the box. The wagon then struck a stump, throwing out both men. The team kept on and ran into a fence and fell. Mrs. Nicholson was then able to get out and hurried back to where the men had been thrown out, and found them both unconscious. An automobile from Bigfork was passing at the time, and the injured men were taken to Dr. Henderlite's office. Dr. Greusel was telephoned for and Dr. O'Neil, who happened to be in Bigfork at the time, was called. The physicians found that Z. S. Nicholson was fatally injured as the ribs over his heart had been crushed in, and other serious injuries had been sustained. He lived only about two hours and did not regain consciousness. The uncle is also in a precarious condition as he is injured about the head, and it is feared that he has sustained internal injuries. Little hope is held out for his recovery. While Mrs. Nicholson was not injured, the shock of the tragedy has completely unnerved her. It is considered little short of miraculous that she escaped unhurt as the team was going at a terrific pace when the stump was struck. The team was a pair of 4-year-old colts, but had been driven constantly and were considered safe.

Z. S. Nicholson was born in Otter county, Nebraska, and was 34 years of age last February. He is survived by a daughter, 11 years old, his wife, a sister, Mrs. Nicholson, in Kalspell, a brother at Twin Falls, Idaho, and his father, A. C. Nicholson. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 o'clock, from the Waggener undertaking establishment.

PETER PEARSON DEAD
 Killed by Accidental Discharge of His Own Rifle.—Death Was Probably Instantaneous.

Through the apparent accidental discharge of his rifle, Peter Pearson of Batavia, was instantly killed near his home some time Tuesday morning.

Pearson, who was working at the making for a neighbor, went to work as usual Tuesday morning, taking his rifle with him, intending to do a little hunting along the way. As he did not appear for dinner at noon, his employer became anxious and instituted a search the body being found late in the afternoon, and Coroner Waggener at once notified.

Pearson had evidently been at work for several hours and had stopped to rest. His coat had been removed and laid on the log, and it appeared that in putting the rifle down the hammer had struck against the log. The bullet had entered at the pit of the stomach and passed upward through the lungs. Death was undoubtedly instantaneous. The rifle was a 25-35, shooting a soft-nosed steel jacketed bullet.

The unfortunate man was 26 years of age, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Pearson, who reside on the Darling place near Batavia.

He was born in Sweden, but the family emigrated to Montana 25 years ago and practically his entire life was spent in Flathead county, where he has many warm friends. Two years ago he operated a sawmill near Poys lake, and was well known among lumbermen.

ESTHER PEDERSON LOSES HER LIFE

A tragedy occurred at Bigfork at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, in which Esther Pederson, the 14-year-old daughter of Andrew Pederson of Creston, lost her life by drowning in the Swan river, and two of her companions narrowly escaped a similar fate.

The victim of the accident went to Bigfork Tuesday for the purpose of taking the eighth grade examinations, stopping with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Nelson. After dinner yesterday afternoon, five of her young friends, Muriel Smith, Goldie McGuire, Ray Dwyer, Verger Adison and Franklin Paulen, called at the house and asked her to take a walk. After securing the permission of her sister she left with the others, going in the direction of the dam. Just above the dam is a pontoon bridge of planks used in crossing the river in low water, and this the children attempted to cross. Goldie McGuire and Ray Dwyer crossed first and made it safely. The others then attempted to cross and Esther, when in the middle of the stream, lost her balance and fell in. Franklin Paulen, who was with her, grabbed her but on account of the swift water was unable to save her. In his efforts to rescue her he fell in also, and barely escaped drowning. In the excitement Muriel Smith also fell off the planks, and held onto the piling until rescued, although the force of the water was so great that the nails were torn off her fingers in her efforts to hold on. The body of the Pederson girl was carried over the dam by the swift current, the water being very high, and was seen to come to the surface three times below the dam.

Her parents were immediately notified and although grief stricken, assisted in the search for the body, in which many from Creston, Bigfork and KallsPELL have joined.

H. B. Hendrickson of this city, a brother-in-law of the unfortunate girl, stated last night that she was of a very timid nature, and hesitated to go upon the planks until urged by the others, although no blame whatever is attached to the children, who did not know the danger. She was a home-loving child, and greatly attached to her elder sister, Cora, whom she phoned for yesterday morning, saying she was lonely, and who was in Bigfork at the time the accident happened.

The family are well known in KallsPELL, having lived here about ten years ago. There were seven girls in the family, the eldest, Mrs. W. R. Twining of this city, who is now in Pennsylvania, and who has been notified by wire; Mrs. Ernest Nelson of Bigfork, and Mrs. Louis Klinke of Creston, the younger children still living at home. The family are nearly overcome with grief, and have the deepest sympathy of the community. The body had not been recovered at noon, and it is feared that it may have been carried down into the lake.

The drowning of Miss Esther Pederson at Bigfork, cast a gloom over the entire community, as the girl was well known here. The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

"The death of Miss Quinn was wholly unexpected, as she had apparently been in her usual good health. As she left the room and started up the stairs she suddenly became faint and summoned her mother. She was assisted to a chair where she passed away a few minutes later and before the arrival of a physician who had been hastily summoned. Her death was due to organic heart trouble, which had however never before been manifested through any outward symptoms.

"Few young women were better known or more sincerely loved for their inherent worth than was Katherine Quinn. Gifted with a brilliant cultured mind, she applied her talents with a modesty that shunned, rather than courted popularity. Nevertheless she was known to her many friends for her true worth and the unusually sad circumstances surrounding her untimely demise has occasioned the deepest grief and sympathy.
