A Brilliant Wedding.
The following from the Sioux City (Ia.) Tribune will be read with interest by the people of Kalispell, Mr. Listle being a prominent business man of this place and his wife a former teacher in the Kalispell city schools:
On Wednesday evening, June 6, at Cherokee, Ia., occurred the marriage of Miss Alice Louise Ingersoll and Mr. John Robert Listle, of Kalispell, Mont. Miss Ingersoll is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus S. Ingersoll, and as the family has lived in Sioux City and has a wide acquaintance here, the marriage has been one of especial interest to Sioux City people. Rev. George H. Cornell performed the ceremony, which took place in the Ingersoll home, flower-bedecked and vino-draped, all white and green, like a cool and shadad bower. Snowballs, syringas and white roses were used in lavish profusion, the banisters, down which the white-robed girl bride came with her father, were festooned with vines; the broad, white satin ribbons which formed the aisle down which the bridal party passed, were held by Misses Helen Ingersoll, Ethel Stillman, Adah

Jandt, May Pendleton and Ella Hubbard, the three latter being from Sioux City Upon a white satin cushion knelt the happy pair and received the benediction of the church and took upon themselves the solemn obligations of wedded life. The bride's gown was a creation of silk fibre over silk, her going away suit being of Oxford gray with black hat and gloves. Mrs. Ingersoll wore a beautiful raspberry silk with white applique and black velvet. Mrs. Rankin, of Lincoln, the matron of honor, was attired in white as were all of the young attendants. After a wedding luncheon the young couple left for Chicago, from where they will make an extended wedding trip. The groom is a capitalist in Kalispell, Mont., and is in every way worthy the young woman whom he has won, no higher praise being possible in the cities which have known her in the years gone by. The wedding gifts were most magnificent and conveyed more than the mere conventional compliment in their bestowal.
