Brawley Charles H Whiting Hazel M

26 Apr 1904 p8- license

Charles H. Brawley of this city and Hazel M. Whiting of Troy, were granted a marriage license today.

6 May 1904 p3- marriage

At the home of the bride's parents in Troy, Montana, on the evening of April 28, Miss Hazel M. Whiting, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Whiting, and Mr. Charles H. Brawley, a popular young railroad man, were united in marriage.

The Rev. Father Arts having arrived from Kalspell to perform the ceremony, at 8:30 p. m. fifty invited guests assembled in the tastefully decorated parlors, and while inhaling the delicious odor of cut flowers and listening to exquisite music rendered by the Misses Pearl and Mabel Whiting, Mrs. A. B. Johnson and Daniel McEvers.

The inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding march announced the appearance of the bride leaning on her father's arm and carrying bridal roses, her fair face of truth and grace of person blending harmoniously with her gown of silk mull artistically finished in lace medallions and insertions with tucks and paneled front, and wearing a bridal veil. The bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Whiting, wore a beautiful costume of muslin de soie and with a bouquet of carnations the sisters represented a picture of elegant feminine loveliness. The groom with the mother of the bride and Mr. Robert Larter, the groomsmen, completed the bridal party, and standing beneath a canopy of flowers from the center of which was suspended the floral emblem of a horseshoe, the marriage ceremony of the Catholic faith was performed.

The congratulations which followed exhibited warm touches of earnest friendship and until 11 p. m. fun and music was maintained, when the party headed by the bride and groom marched under the subdued light of Japanese lanterns suspended from stately pines down the lawn to Alton's hotel, where that social diplomat "Ma" Allen with a completeness of detail had caused to be prepared an attractive, wholesome and elegant supper.

The bride and groom after the supper departed on a short tour including Spokane, and after May 10 will be at home to their friends in Kalspell, Montana, at 314 Fifth avenue east.

9 Sep 1904 p2- marriage

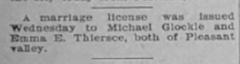

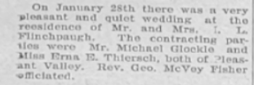

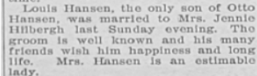

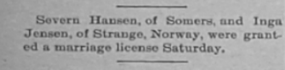

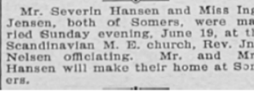

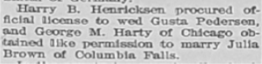

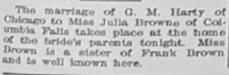

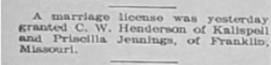

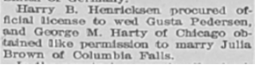

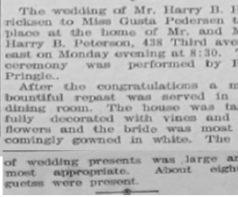

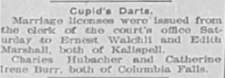

Miss Fanny Edd Allen, the handsome and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Allen, of this place, and Ralph F. Garr, son of Hon. H. H. Garr, ex-representative of Flathead county, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Polhemus, on the afternoon of August 31st. The invitations were limited to the capacity of the Polhemus home which was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the delicacies and exquisite tastes displayed in memory of the occasion including the viands of the dining room will long remain a glad oasis in the desert of time's memory by all whose good fortune it was to be present. As an evidence of the esteem in which these people are held by their many friends there was an array of presents that were extremely appropriate and pretty. The bride is a printer and during the past year has been the compositor and society editor of the Hendricks' Columbian and we can only say that she is one of the best women that the Supreme Ruler in his infinite wisdom ever placed upon earth. Mr. and Mrs. Garr will reside for the present at their country home which was tendered them as a wedding present by father to son and will be home to their friends after Sept. 15, previous to which time they will enjoy a wedding trip. During the coming winter they will reside at the Garr home in Columbia Falls—Columbian. The young lady so happily launched on the matrimonial voyage by the Columbia Falls paper has had quasi connection with the Bee as subscription agent and correspondent during the past two years, and is a very pleasing young lady whom it is a pleasure to indorse as fully as the Columbia Falls editor has.

CALIFORNIA WEDDING

Which Will Be of Interest to Many Who Live in Kallispell.

The following account of the wedding of a lady who formerly resided in this county is taken from the News of Brawley, California:

On Monday, October 24, at Imperial, Cal., Thomas H. Kellogg and Cora E. Clinton were married by Rev. A. McAllen in the parlor of the Imperial hotel. None but relatives were present.

Cora E. Clinton, the bride, is a sister of our well known J. E. Ransdell, who lives in No. 8 and is a successful farmer. Mrs. Kellogg until recently has lived in Seattle, Wash. About one year ago she came down here and Mr. Kellogg sold her some land thereby making the acquaintance that has ripened into more than friendship. Mrs. Kellogg will make a pleasant addition to our city and valley and we believe will make a strong member in our social life, working for its upbuilding in every way.

McAllister Claud J Greig Kathryn 2 Dec 1904 p3- announcement 16 Dec 1904 p1- marriage

The wedding of two well known young people of KallsPELL will occur on December 14, at the home of the bride's parents. The contracting parties are Claud J. McAllister and Miss Kathryn Greig.

The first of the holiday weddings to occur was that of two well known young people of KallsPELL on Wednesday evening when Claude T. McAllister and Kathryn A. Greig were united in marriage. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents a mile south of town, the hour was 8 o'clock. After the relatives and a very few intimate friends had assembled the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March was heard, Miss Josephine Torkelson being the organist.

Miss Greig entered the room with her father, preceded by her bridesmaid, Miss Alice Kimmerly.

The ceremony was performed in the big bow window which was a bower of beautiful vines with white wax berries hanging in clusters therefrom and it was here that the groom and his brother, Ray McAllister, who performed the office of best man, met the bride. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. McAllister, father of the groom, who journeyed hither from his home near Walla Walla to be present. He was assisted by Rev. Hector E. Clowes of KallsPELL.

After the ceremony congratulations and best wishes were received by Mr. and Mrs. McAllister and a pleasant half hour of merry conversation ensued. Then a most delightful collation was served, the cutting of the wedding cake playing an important part.

The gown worn by the bride was a beautiful creation of white silk with real lace. Her Titian hair was becomingly arranged and she never looked more beautiful. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Greig and has lived here nearly all her life, coming to Flathead valley at the early age of two. She is a charming young woman with varied accomplishments, retiring and quiet in manner and it is only her intimate friends who really know and appreciate her worth.

Miss Kimmerly was attired in a crepe gown of a pale champagne shade.

The groom who is well known and highly respected is the assistant secretary of the KallsPELL Water & Electric Light Co.

Both of the young people have tastes and temperaments alike, being very musical.

Their friends accompanied them to their new home on Third avenue east which is elegantly furnished throughout. The guests assembled in the dining room where punch and cake was served, the bride and groom were toasted and then farewell was said.

The list of wedding presents was large. Among them were noticed a beautiful mahogany davenport, table linen, four dinner cups and saucers, coffee cups, cut glass salt and pepper shakers, china plates, a jewel case, pie knife, several water color pictures, a pastel, a silver tea set which was presented by the Bachelor Boys, cut glass water set with mirror tray, silver water pitcher, cut glass sugar and creamer, silver card tray, silver spoon tray and silver spoons, silk and linen center pieces, carving set, handkerchief bag, silk drape and salad spoon.

ously beautiful girl, with a fine complexion and a wealth of chestnut hair, and tis said she never looked so pretty before. In her hand she carried a few white asters.

The dining room was quite out of the ordinary. Fastened to the electrolers were four large ropes of pink and white sweet peas which were caught at the corners of the table with four large white satin bows. It was in here that the guests, numbering about fifty, were served to refreshments which were particularly dainty and toothsome.

The wedding gifts were numerous and very beautiful. Strange to say, among them all, there was not one duplicate. Many came from out of town.

The young couple left for Great Falls Wednesday evening where they will reside in the future.

Traux Jesse P Ferguson E Frances 22 Jul 1904 p2- announcement

Kallispell is to have a wedding in the near future—a wedding which interests everyone, for the bride-to-be, Miss E. Frances Ferguson, a young woman of charming personality, gentle of voice and manner, and one of the brightest, happiest girls who ever lived here, is to be married some time next month to Dr. Jesse P. Traux, an army surgeon, who is now stationed in Spokane. It is understood that the wedding will be quite informal. Relatives and a few intimate friends are hidden.

Society's Note Book.

Quite the prettiest home wedding that has ever occurred in Kallispell was that which took place on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. L. McIntire.

The house was a bower of beauty; portieres were made of cedar-brue, a pretty running moss, and the electrolers were covered with twin flower vines. The room where the ceremony was performed was all in white, while the music room was almost oriental in appearance, the decorations being entirely of red. At half past eight Mrs. H. E. Clowes commenced the wedding march and the groom, Dr. Jesse P. Traux with his attendant Leland Tansel took his place in front of Rev. Hector E. Clowes, followed by little Genevieve C. Harris of Helena, (a niece of the bride), who was fairy-like in an accordion pleated pink silk dress trimmed with rich laces. She scattered rose petals before the bride from a huge bouquet which she carried. Then came the bride leaning on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. J. L. McIntire, and followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Isabel Ferguson. The bride's dress was a creation of air cloth over white silk, on train, and trimmed in rare duchess lace. It was simply made, very dainty and becoming. She carried a huge shower of white sweet peas. The bridesmaid was unusually pretty in a pink silk mill over pink silk and carried a shower of pink peas. The impressive and beautiful Episcopal service with the ring was used and soon they were pronounced man and wife. Mrs. C. W. Norquist sang cape throwing her bouquet to the young people, each one endeavoring to secure one of the four-leaved clovers which were tied within, and two of Kallispell's bright young ladies are destined to marry in the near future.

While supper was being served the Elks' quartette sweetly serenaded the bride and groom. This indeed was a pretty tribute to the bride who has scores of friends here.

The wedding was very informal, only the relatives and a very few friends being invited. The wedding presents were very beautiful.

The entire party went to the train and Dr. and Mrs. Truax departed for their home at Fort Wright, near Spokane, in a shower of rice and roses.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Ferguson, came from California and her sister, Mrs. Harris came from Helena to be here for the happy event. The others who were present were Mr. and Mrs. McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. Groely Pomeroy and Miss Ferguson, all relatives of the bride, Judge and Mrs. Pomeroy, Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Norquist, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett, Judge and Mrs. Nash, Rev. and Mrs. Clowes and Dorothy, Mrs. Kleinschmidt, Julius Trumper, Chester, Georgia Chester, Swaney, Messers. Ferguson, Tobie, and Swaney, and Jean McIntire.

Bohm's "Still as the night in her usual sweet voice. After that the couple stood under a bower of asparagus vine and Heaven's bread, where congratulations were showered upon the groom while the bride received the heartiest and best wishes for her future.

This was one of the happiest of weddings, devoid of all sadness which is usually attendant upon such occasions and every one had a merry time. All then repaired to the dining room. Here everything was pink; the round table was profusely decorated with pink sweet peas and from the electroliers above wide pink ribbon was draped to the table below and pretty pink lighted candles in silver candelabra completed the table appointments. The refreshments were served; the bride cut the wedding cake and then made her ex-
