DEATH OF MRS. ADAMS

Mrs. Ida Richards Adams, wife of B. S. Adams, died at Sand Point, Idaho, Monday, while on her way home from San Antonio, Texas. Mrs. Adams had been ill for a year, and last fall had gone to Hammond, Louisiana, hoping for a restoration of health by a change to a warmer climate. For a time she seemed to improve, but the benefit from the change did not continue. In January her infant son became ill and died, and the anxiety and grief still more weakened her. Mr. Adams then, on the advice of the physicians took her to San Antonio, Texas, where they remained until the physicians said there was no hope of her recovery, and they decided to return to Kalispell. At Sand Point they stopped for two days with Mrs. Warren, a cousin of Mrs. Adams, to rest, then started to Kalispell. A few minutes after leaving Sand Point Mrs. Adams passed away.

The funeral occurred from the Methodist church yesterday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. F. L. Buzzell. The interment was in the Conrad memorial cemetery. Mrs. Adams leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss.

Telegrams had been sent to her relatives, but none were able to get to Kalispell in time for the funeral except Mrs. Chas. Warren, of Sand Point, and Dwight Richards, who was visiting there.

With the exception of a few years spent at Glendive, Mrs. Adams had lived in Kalispell from girlhood, and she had many warm friends here who extend to the stricken husband and children their deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

KILLED BY A BLAST

East Side Farmer Meets
Death While Blowing
Out Stumps.

A. P. Anderson, who lived with his son Oscar, near Lake Blain, was badly hurt Tuesday afternoon by a flying piece of a stump he was blowing out, and died Wednesday morning from his injuries.

Mr. Anderson was engaged in clearing some stumps from a field, and was blasting them to pieces. In firing one charge he either remained too close or had not gotten far enough distant to be in safety, and a piece of the stump struck him violently across the abdomen. No one was with him at the time, but his son found him shortly after the accident occurred, and took him to the house. Dr. Bottorf was summoned by telephone, but the internal injuries had been so severe that nothing could be done.

Mr. Anderson had been a resident of the valley for a good many years. Beside his son Oscar, with whom he lived, he had two daughters, Mrs. Geo. Slack, of Kalispell, and Mrs. Geo. Storrer, of Anaconda.

C. E. BISHOP DEAD.

Charles E. Bishop died at his home on Fourth Avenue east Tuesday night, the immediate cause of death being congestion of the liver. Mr. Bishop had moved in from Foys lake only a short time before, and had been ill but a few days.

The funeral occurred from the residence yesterday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. H. E. Clowes, assisted by Rev. H. H. Griffis. The pall bearers were Elks, of which fraternity Mr. Bishop was a member. The interment was in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

Mr. Bishop was born in Illinois in 1860, and was nearly forty-seven years of age at the time of his death. His wife, three sons and one daughter survive him. He came with his family to Kallispell five years ago, and in those years made many friends who grieve with the stricken family over his untimely death.

SUDDEN DEATH OF J. K. BOTTORF.

J. K. Bottorf died very suddenly Sunday afternoon at his home on Fourth Avenue east, the cause of death being heart failure.

Mr. Bottorf had been in his usual health, and there was no sign of impending danger. He and Mrs. Bottorf had been at the lake for some time and had returned to town Friday evening. Sunday afternoon as he arose from his chair to cross the room, he fell to the floor unconscious. His son, E. A. Bottorf, started immediately for Dr. Bottorf, and met him on the street in his automobile. They were at the house within a few moments, but life had departed. He had been a sufferer from organic heart trouble for many years; and at the time of his death was seventy-two years old.

The funeral occurred Monday afternoon from the residence, the services being conducted by Rev. W. J. Spire. Interment was in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

Mr. Bottorf was a man of singularly quiet and lovable disposition. Of the best character and with the highest ideals of thought and act, he was filled with charity for those whose standards were less rigid. His later years were spent in comparative retirement, and outside the circle of his church and immediate friends, he made few acquaintances. To those whose pleasure it was to know him, and especially to those who had known him with an approach to intimacy, his death comes with a strong sense of personal loss.

Bowman

George W

FOUND DEAD IN HIS CABIN.

A telephone message was received by Coroner Sherman Monday evening stating that George W. Bowman had been found dead in his cabin on the west shore of Flathead lake. Mr. Sherman went down Tuesday morning but there was nothing to indicate necessity for holding an inquest.

Bowman lived in the cabin alone, and Mr. Sherman thinks he had been dead for two or three days when he was found by one of the neighbors going to the cabin. Mr. Fiekes thought he saw a light in the house Saturday night previous. Nothing was disturbed in the cabin. Bowman had apparently gone to bed, after preparing everything for morning, and had died in his sleep. His clothes, with his money and some other things, were beside the bed.

It is not known where Bowman's people live, or whether he had any near relatives living. He was a reticent man, forming few acquaintances, and keeping much to himself. He worked for F. M. Morgan eight or ten years ago, when the latter lived at Poys lake and a telegram was sent to Mr. Morgan at Spokane asking if he knew anything of the family. Bowman owned 20 acres of fruit land on the lake near the Lakeside school house.

MRS. L. D. BRYAN

Word was received Tuesday morning from Mrs. G. E. Drew that her mother, Mrs. L. D. Bryan, died the night preceding at the home of a daughter in Lincoln, Nebraska. The interment was at Canton, Ohio, to which place Mrs. Drew accompanied the body. Mrs. Bryan spent last summer in Kalispell, and being in ill health was taken by Mrs. Drew, to the Mayo hospital, Minnesota, for treatment last fall. Receiving little benefit there, they went to Lincoln to remain with Mrs. Bryan's daughter.

Burnes

DEATH OF MRS. BURNES.

Early Monday morning Mrs. Ella Sells Burnes, wife of Arthur J. Burnes, passed away. Her husband, children mother and sister were with her during the last illness, and the deepest sympathy of friends is theirs in their grief.

Friends of many years in Kalispell who knew Mrs. Burnes, loved her for her kindly, womanly traits, and beautiful character, and keen sorrow is felt because of her death.

The funeral services were held at ten o'clock Wednesday morning at the Catholic church, with interment at the Courad Memorial cemetery.

Busey

Isaac M

30 Aug 1907 p4

ISSAAC M. BUSEY IS DEAD.

Isaac M. Busey, for several years a well known resident of Kalispell, died at his home on Tuesday morning, after a painful illness lasting many months. Mr. Busey was taken to specialists in Minnesota several weeks ago but they could do nothing for the stomach trouble from which he suffered, and after his return home he gradually declined. At the end the pain disappeared, and he sank peacefully to rest. The funeral was held at the Christian church Wednesday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. H. H. Griffin and Rev. Geo. MeVey Fisher. At the Conrad Memorial cemetery the body was laid to rest with Masonic service.

Mr. Busey leaves a wife and five children, all residents of Kalispell. There are four sons; W. T. Busey, Jas E. Busey, Isaac Busey and T. E. Busey, and one daughter, Mrs Dr. Howe.

During his years of residence in Kalispell Mr. Busey had gained many friends who regret his death, and sympathize with his family in their deep affliction.

Carter

Mrs. L. T. Carter died at the home of Mr. Pennoyer, on the east side, Wednesday morning. The funeral will occur this afternoon from the home of Mr. Pennover, and the interment will be in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

Chope

daughter of C L

11 Oct 1907 p5

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chope died from drinking coal oil Saturday evening. The baby, who was but a year and a half old, got a partly filled can, which Mrs. Chope had set down after filling a lamp, and drank a quantity of it before she was discovered. She was immediately seized with severe pains, and Dr. Phebe Bottorf was summoned; but before the doctor arrived the little one was beyond aid, and though every attempt was made she could not be revived. The funeral occurred Sunday afternoon from the residence, services being conducted by Rev. W. J. Spira.

Colby

wife of W E

14 Jun 1907 p5

Mrs. Colby, wife of W. E. Colby, died at her home on eighth avenue west Saturday, June 8th. Mrs Colby had been ill for some time, but there had been so much improvement in her condition that a fatal termination of her illness was unexpected. The funeral occurred from the Baptist church Monday, interment being in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

T. B. CONKLIN DEAD.
T. B. Conklin, an old time resident of the Flathead, died at his home near Spokane on Tuesday of this week. The news of his death came as a great shock to his daughters here, as Mr. Conklin had been in apparently perfect health only a few days before. Miss Mary Conklin had been visiting her parents last week and her father brought her in from the farm to Spokane Saturday night. On receipt of the telegram announcing his death, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, and Misses Blanche and Mary Conklin went to Spokane. Another daughter, Mrs. Colby, is in quarantine on account of diphtheria in the family and could not go.
The body was brought to Kalispell, and the funeral will be held from the Presbyterian church at two o'clock Sunday afternoon. Mr. Conklin lived on the east side of the river for many years, and farmed on an extensive scale. A few years ago he bought land near Spokane, and has since lived there.

Cramer

Hazel, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cramer, died on last Friday morning. The funeral occurred from the home on the west shore of the lake Saturday afternoon, the interment being in the Bethel cemetery.

Deere

Baby of O D

11 Mar 1907 p5

BABY WAS DROWNED.
The little son of O. D. Deere, two and a half years old, was drowned in Ashley creek Tuesday morning.
The child had been playing in the yard at their home in the west part of town, and when Mrs. Deere looked out and did not see him, search was begun at once. Mr. Deere and others looked first in the vicinity of Spring creek, but were told by a girl that she had seen the child going toward Ashley creek, following two dogs.
They went to the creek and found his footprints along the bank, and several places where he had broken through the ice at the edge, but had come out again. It is supposed that he had started on the ice attempting to follow the dogs. At a bend of the creek, fully a quarter of a mile from home, his father found him lying in the water, partly under the ice, which had broken under him. The water was quite deep at the place, but he had caught on some driftwood, and was held near the surface.
The child was carried home and a physician called, but he could not be revived.

Dorathy

Edward

29 Nov 1907 p5

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Edward Dorathy was struck by the train Tuesday night and so badly injured that he died the next day.

Dorathy was found beside the track on the fill about a mile from the Kalispell station, by some men who had come in on the train at four o'clock Wednesday morning, and were walking to their home. He was groaning by the track as they passed, and they brought him to the station. He was taken to the hospital and Dr. Taylor called to attend him. He had an arm broken, and the examination at the hospital showed that the pelvic bones were broken also. He died about eleven o'clock the following morning.

Dorathy said he had been cooking at Boorman's camp for two weeks or more, and after coming to town had been drinking until his money was all gone. He started to walk to Whitefish Tuesday night, and was either on or beside the track when the passenger overtook him. He lay beside the track until the man came along five hours later. He had called for help at intervals, but had not been able to arouse any one. He had been around the depot in the evening, badly intoxicated, and the railroad men had taken him off the track a number of times. Conductor Greenhalgh had pulled him from in front of the passenger just in time to save him, when the train came up to the depot. The man was about thirty years old. His father, at Oxford, Ontario, has been notified of his death, but no word has been received from him.

Dunk

Henry

5 Jul 1907 p5

SUICIDE AT SWAN LAKE.

Henry Dunk, who had been employed on A. J. Campbell's place at Swan Lake, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a 32-calibre revolver at three o'clock Monday morning. Dunk's wife was beside him in bed at the time. When she was awakened by the shot and realized what had happened she hurried to the house on the place, and gave the alarm. The bullet had passed through the man's head, breaking the skull on the opposite side, but not coming through. Death was instantaneous.

Dunk had been around Big Fork for some time before going to the Campbell place. He had been notified that he would not be wanted any longer, and it was reported that he had been despondent for several days. That his despondency came from losing his position is not probable, as he could easily get work any where in the valley; and it is thought there was some other reason for it.

The body was brought to Kalispell, and an inquest was held by Coroner Sherman. A large number of witnesses were examined, but the evidence showed plainly that it was a case of suicide, and the jury so reported in its verdict. The funeral occurred Wednesday afternoon.

The deceased was about thirty-five years old, and leaves a wife, and a son seven years old.

Elliott John 7 Jun 1907 p5

John Elliott, a young man about thirty years old, died in Kalispell Tuesday, after a brief illness. The funeral occurred from the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. His father, J. A. Elliott, of Spokane, was here for the funeral, and his aunt, Mrs. Ben Sickler, arrived from Alberta this morning. Besides his father, he is survived by his sister, Mrs. Wm. Lang.

Emory Elton A 27 Dec 1907 p5

Elton A. Emory, an old soldier who has been a well known figure in Kalispell for a long time, was found dead in his cabin near Sedan last Sunday. He had been in town a day or two previous, and had stopped at a neighbor's on Saturday for a short time. On the following day the neighbor's son went to Emory's cabin, and on opening the door discovered the lifeless body of the old man lying on the bed, dressed. From appearances he had gone to sleep and never awakened. He was a bachelor, and lived alone in the cabin. Nothing is known of his people. It was reported that he has a brother living at Butte, but nothing definite could be learned. The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon, and was in charge of the G. A. R.

Fitzpatrick Mrs 9 Aug 1907 p5

MRS. FITZPATRICK DEAD.
Mrs. James J. Fitzpatrick, of Bad Rock, died early yesterday morning, and the funeral will occur this afternoon, interment being in the Fairview cemetery. Mrs. Fitzpatrick was one of the old residents of the valley. She has been in poor health for a long time, and was taken east for treatment, but without benefit. She leaves a husband and several children.

Donald Frazer, known locally as "Step-and-a-half," died at Bouners Ferry on the 8th inst.

Frederick Marie Johnson 31 May 1907 p5

Mrs. Marie Frederick, wife of Olive-Frederick, died Tuesday night after a brief illness. Although Mrs. Frederick's health had been poor for some time, her death was unexpected, and came as a great shock to her husband, ending, as it did, a happy married life of only a few months.
The funeral occurred from the residence on 4th street west, yesterday afternoon, the interment being in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

Gaston Robert E 17 May 1907 p5

DEATH FROM MENINGITIS.
Robert, the fourteen year old son of Mrs. Johanna Gaston, died early Saturday morning of cerebro spinal meningitis, after an illness of three days. The funeral occurred Monday from the Catholic church, and the interment was in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

Gates

Charles

8 Feb 1907 p3

SUICIDE AT BIG FORK.
Charles Gates committed suicide at Big Fork Wednesday afternoon by shooting himself through the head with a rifle. Gates had been working during the day, and had gone to his home, about a half mile south of Big Fork before starting to Holt to do some work there. According to reports he had been drinking some, and when he got home his wife was crying about his condition. He remarked that she would not have to cry about his drinking any more, and walked to the wall and took down his rifle. He threw a shell into the barrel, and started to another room, she following to get the rifle away from him. When she reached him he had the muzzle of the gun against his head, and as she tried to get hold of the rifle he pressed the trigger, blowing the entire top of his head off.
Mrs. Gates hurried to Big Fork and reported the occurrence, and word was telephoned to Coroner Sherman, who went down yesterday morning and held an inquest. There was no question about the manner of his death, and a verdict of suicide was returned.
Mrs. Gates was left with five small children to care for, and is said to be destitute.

Goshorn

Jo

31 May 1907 p5

AT REST.
The funeral services for Glen Scott Jaqueth and Joseph Ford Goshorn, who were drowned in Lake Washington, at Seattle, on May 19th, were held from the Methodist church last Saturday afternoon.
The pall bearers were old schoolmates and friends, and the funeral address was given by Rev. Geo. McVey Fisher, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church, and from their childhood the boys' fast friend. Rev. F. L. Buzzell of the Methodist church and Rev. W. J. Spire of the Presbyterian church, assisted in the services.
Their bodies were laid to rest in the Conrad Memorial Cemetery, in the protecting shadow of the pines, and in view of the mountains they loved so well. They sleep near together, as they lived, and as they died; two of the bravest, gentlest, truest young hearts that ever beat.

Green

David M

29 Mar 1907 p5

David M. Green, grandfather of D. R. McGinnis, and who was for a number of years a resident of Kalispell, living with Mr. McGinnis, died Tuesday of last week at Seattle. Mr. Green was nearly a hundred years old at the time of his death, and until very recently had been remarkably active and self helpful for a man of his great age.

Harness

Sylvester

1 Nov 1907 p5

SYLVESTER HARNES IS DEAD.

Sylvester Harnes, one of the early settlers of the Flathead, and for many years a resident of Kalispell, died at the home of C. M. Jump Monday morning. Mr. Harnes was brought in from his home at Marion several weeks ago for medical treatment, his condition being so serious that his recovery could scarcely be hoped for. He slowly but steadily sank until the end came.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. W. Spire. The interment was in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.

Mr. Harnes was at Demersville in the early days, coming to Kalispell when this town was platted, and he lived here until about three years ago when he moved to a homestead near Marion. He leaves a widow and one son.

Harrison

Mrs W H

26 Jul 1907 p5

DEATH OF MRS. HARRISON.

Mrs. Harrison, wife of W. H. Harrison, died yesterday morning at their home on east First street. Mr. Harrison left last night with the body for Canton, South Dakota, their former home. Mrs. Harrison had been a sufferer from cancer for a long time, and knew that a fatal result was inevitable. She went to the hospital at Rochester, Minnesota, last winter, and an operation was performed for the removal of the cancer, but it gave only temporary relief. She had not been confined to the house, and until Wednesday evening appeared as well as usual. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison had been residents of Kalispell less than a year, coming from California last November.

Hayes

James J

27 Sep 1907 p5

4 Oct 1907 p5

James J. Hayes, a well known character of Kalispell's early days, died at Ogden, Utah, the first of the week. "Jimmy the Nibbler," as he was universally known, gambler, frequenter of low resorts, by the accepted standards an outcast, had more friends, and deserved more, than many a man whose life is drawn on what society calls more correct lines. He went with Company H., to the Philippines, and in camp and field he was one of the most popular men in the regiment. Many an old comrade will bear of his death with regret, and over the faults of his life will draw the veil of forgetfulness.

The body of James J. Hayes, who died recently in Ogden, was brought to Kalispell, and the funeral was held from Sherman's undertaking rooms on Sunday.

Hendrickson

Gusta

17 May 1907 p5

MRS. HENDRICKSON'S DEATH.

The community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Gusta Hendrickson, wife of Harry B. Hendrickson, on Sunday evening last. Mrs. Hendrickson had seemingly been in perfect health until late the night preceding, and the news of her death came as a complete surprise to her friends. The funeral occurred from the Norwegian Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon, and many friends of the family were present to pay their tribute of sorrow and sympathy. The interment was in the Conrad Memorial cemetery. There were many beautiful floral offerings as tributes of affection from societies and friends.

Mrs. Hendrickson was the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pederson now of Creston. She was born at Minneapolis in 1881, coming with her parents to the Flathead in 1891. She was married in November, 1904, to Harry B. Hendrickson.

Hill

Mrs A E

6 Dec 1907 p5

Mesdames Emma Dorris and Anna Dorris left Tuesday for Clinton, Illinois, in response to a telegram stating that Mrs. A. E. Hill had died. Mr. and Mrs. Hill spent some time in the Flathead in the summer of 1904, and their relatives and friends here were shocked at the sad news.

Hines

4 Oct 1907 p5

DEATH OF MRS. HINES.
Mrs. S. H. Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. O'Neill, of Kalispell, died at Spokane on Monday, of acute stomach trouble. She had been ill only a very few days, and the first intimation that her illness was serious came in a telegram to Mrs. O'Neill that her daughter wished her to come to Spokane. Mrs. O'Neill left Sunday night and reached her daughter before her death.
Mr. O'Neill, C. I. O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. O'Neill, and C. D. O'Neill went to Spokane Monday night to attend the funeral, which was held on Wednesday.
Mrs. Hines lived in Kalispell for some time, and was known to many people here. Mr. Hines went to Spokane several years ago, and they have since made their home in that city. One daughter, about fourteen years old, survives her mother.

18 Oct 1907 p5

Mrs. W. F. Kelsey died at the hospital on Sunday last of typhoid fever. The funeral was from the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. F. A. Armstrong. The interment was in the Conrad Memorial cemetery. Mrs. Kelsey is survived by her husband, two daughters and a son.

LaBean

J B

11 Oct 1907 p5

AN OLD TIMER GONE.
J. B. LeBeau, who had for many years been a resident of the Flathead, died at his home in the lower valley last Saturday night. Mr. LeBeau was eighty years old at the time of his death. His wife survives him.
The funeral services were held at the Catholic church in Kalispell Tuesday afternoon, interment being in the Demersville cemetery, in accordance with Mr. LeBeau's request to lie with other old timers buried there.
Jean Baptiste LeBeau was born in the province of Quebec in 1827. His life, after he had reached manhood, was filled with stirring adventure for many years. In 1857 he joined in the rush of gold seekers to California, going by sailing vessel around the continent to San Francisco. He remained in California for seven years, and then when the Alder Gulch excitement came in Montana he came into the interior.
In 1871 he brought a band of cattle into the Flathead, then an unsettled wilderness, and uninhabited except by Indians. A year later he went to the Bitter Root, remaining there until 1880, when he once more came to the Flathead, and has since lived here. He engaged in stock raising until the coming of settlers and the making of farms put an end to the range.
In the early days Mr. LeBeau was one of the best known men in the valley but of late years his great age has kept him confined more closely to his home, but to the last he retained the traits of the hardy pioneers who made the trails through the Northwest.

Lillevig

John P

15 Feb 1904 p3

P. J. Lillevig, a well known Kalispell man, died at Spokane Wednesday night of this week. Mr. Lillevig had been afflicted with lung and throat trouble for a number of years, and had visited southern California and other places for relief, without avail. A month ago he went to Spokane for treatment at one of the hospitals there, but received no benefit. Mrs. Lillevig went to Spokane the first of the week, and was with her husband when he died. Mrs. Lillevig will arrive from Spokane with the body this afternoon, and the funeral arrangements will be made after she arrives.
