Betzer George Gowdy Grace

27 Sep 1907 p2- marriage

A bachelor rancher who lives and shows, on the lake shore where he owns and cultivates one of the best farms in Flathead valley, has rendered to the little god Cupid Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. George Betzer was married to Miss Grace Gowdy, of Winona, Minn. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. Martin Tychsen, the family being intimate friends of the bride and who has several times visited them during the past four years. Mr. Betzer has become acquainted with his bride as one of these annual visits. The romance was happily crowned by the wedding ceremony. Rev. W. J. Kim making the man and maiden one. The bride has many warm friends in the valley who will be glad that she is to hereafter make her home among them. She was one of the popular and successful public school teachers of Winona where her parents and family reside. Mr. Betzer is to be congratulated upon his capture of his lady love, but George is a very nice fellow. In his 16 years' residence in the lower valley, Mr. Betzer has demonstrated his sterling ability and integrity. From the wilderness, he has been out a good home and farm which is a beauty and in the spring when the large orchard is in full bloom, and a treasure house when the harvest of apples and pears and plums is being gathered, a golden harvest for Flathead fruit is in demand. To his comfortable home at Sunrise Terrace he took his bride after being almost overwhelmed with the good wishes, congratulations and presents of friends and relatives. No cards.

Boyd	Wm A	Tetraut	Leah J	28 Jun 1907 p5-marriage	One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place on Wednesday, June 26, and as if to emphasize the old adage, "Happy is the bride on whom the sun shines," there couldn't have dawned a more lovely day when Miss Leah J. Tetraut and Mr. Wm. A. Boyd of Eureka were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tetraut, near Ladshaw, Rev. Father O'Farrel officiating, only relatives of the contracting parties being present. Promptly at noon the bridal party took their places standing during the ceremony beneath a canopy of flowers. The charming bride attired in mauve silk looked radiant as she took for her life's partner, the young man who stood beside her. Misses Annie and Leola Tetraut, sisters of the bride acted as bridesmaids. The groom dressed in the conventional black, was accompanied by Ludger Roy, and Donald Tetraut, Little Wilfred Tetraut, nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer. The decorations in the parlor were green and white with a profusion of red roses. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room which was also decorated in festoons of green and white. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. Later in the evening the happy couple left amid the congratulations of their friends and a shower of rice, for points in B. C., where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride's traveling dress was a tailor made costume of red poplin fitting her graceful figure to perfection. The presents were numerous and beautiful, including table linen, glass ware and silver. The bride and groom have the congratulations and best wishes of their friends for a long and happy life.

Busey James E Elliott Elizabeth

18 Oct 1907 p6- marriage

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Elliott and Mr. James E. Busey will take place at the home of the bride's mother in Holton, Kansas, at Tuesday evening. The bride is one of the most popular and best beloved girls in KallsPELL and if hearty and sincere wishes have anything to do with her future happiness her life will certainly be a happy one. Mr. Busey is not less popular than his charming bride. He is one of the staunch young business men of KallsPELL and occupies one of the important positions in the city, being the manager for the Missoula Mercantile Co. grocery, which for a man of his age is very creditable.

Cade George H Kerr Martha

3 Sep 1907 p8- marriage

MARRIED SATURDAY.
George H. Cade and Miss Martha Kerr Surprise Friends.
The friends of Mr. George Cade and Miss Martha Kerr were treated to a genuine surprise when it was discovered that the young couple had been married by Rev. Green on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Lang, who were the only witnesses at the quiet wedding. Although Cade has not been above suspicion for a month of Sundays, it was not expected that he would so soon abandon the bachelor etiquette. For a time at least, Mr. and Mrs. Cade will not go to housekeeping.
Miss Kerr is one of the very bright and attractive ladies of the city. She has lived here several years and is a sister of Leo Kerr of the KallsPELL Fire Department. She has many acquaintances and lots of friends.
Geo. H. Cade is the well known pianist and band master, who has established an enviable reputation for himself in his four years residence in KallsPELL. A Canadian by birth, he became a naturalized citizen last year, voted and took up a section of public domain, and has now taken unto himself a wife to be his help meet and comfort on life's highway. The best wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Cade, their happiness and future prosperity are extended from all their many friends and especially from the KallsPELL Ice office, in which Mr. Cade is a valued employe.

Chapman Robert Hollister Andrews Frances B

5 Apr 1907 p2- engagement

A recent issue of the Washington Star announces the engagement of Miss Frances B. Andrews to Robert Hollister Chapman. Mr. Chapman has been in the government service for a number of years and for a time was stationed in Platteau county. While here he formed numerous acquaintances and some very staunch friends and the news of his engagement and approaching marriage will interest many. The Star, in making the announcement, says:
"The engagement is announced of Miss Frances B. Andrews to Mr. Robert Hollister Chapman, both of Washington. Miss Andrews, who recently selected this city as her permanent home, is the daughter of the late William Whiting Andrews, of Cleveland, Ohio, and through her late mother, who was born as Miss Beardley, of New York, is related to many prominent families in that state. She is an orphan, and although occupying her own home on Q street, which she purchased last year, has been identified with the family of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George N. McLanahan, in society. Mr. Chapman has lived in Washington from boyhood, being a son of the late Charles W. Chapman and the brother of Mrs. H. C. Hanabrough, wife of the senator from North Dakota. He is a member of the Cosmos and Chevy Chase clubs.
"The wedding will take place early in June at the home of Miss Andrews' aunt, in Auburn, N. Y."

Conrad Charles D Baldwin Kokoa 25 Jan 1907 p5- engagement

The engagement of Mr. Charles D. Conrad and Miss Kokoa Baldwin has been announced, the wedding to take place in March. Both are native born Montanans who have lived in Flathead most of their lives, and their friends are legion who wish for them joy and happiness unbounded.

15 Mar 1907 p5- marriage

The wedding of Miss Kokoa Baldwin and Mr. Charles D. Conrad took place at Christ Episcopal church Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. The church was decorated with a wealth of southern smilax; sprays of its graceful foliage covered the arches and white carnations were banked on the altar and in the font. As the organ pealed forth Mendelssohn's Wedding March, Rev. T. E. Decker took his place at the altar followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. A. M. Moore. Messrs. Van Duzer, Hummer, Tobias and Swaser, who were the ushers, then marched up the aisle separating on either side and followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Catherine Conrad, then came little Eunice Whiteside, dressed in sheer white, carrying a basket of flowers and scattering the sweet scented blossoms in the path of the pretty bride who followed next with her father, Major Baldwin. She was a picture of loveliness and grace; her gown was a dainty creation of pure white chiffon cloth made princely over white silk and chiffon. An available berth of real lace formed the yoke and fastened in front with a spray of orange-blossoms. The sleeves were short puffs edged with the lace. The gown was enticed, the ascends running from the bertha to the bottom of the dress which was finished with two folds of the chiffon cloth. Fan-shaped pieces of the real lace were inserted in the skirt grading toward the front and sprays of the orange blossoms were fastened at the points of the fans. The filmy wedding veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Long white gloves and white satin slippers completed her costume. In front of her waist she wore a beautiful diamond pin, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaid, Miss Conrad, was more charming than ever. Her gown was white chiffon cloth with a wide satin strip and trimmed in gold embroidery. A crown of mallard reared on her head and in her hair a gold center was fastened. She carried an immense shower of pink bridesmaid roses. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was performed under an immense wedding veil of white flowers. The wedding occurring in Lent was more quiet than it ordinarily would have been considering the prominence of the young couple. Both are native born Montanans and very popular, having an immense circle of real true friends whose wishes are most sincere for their future happiness. Miss Baldwin, who is yet in her teens, possesses a voice of remarkable sweetness and musical merit and is accomplished in many ways and is particularly fond of all outdoor sports. She comes from a long line of revolutionary ancestors and is a member of the D. A. R. She is the daughter of Major and Mrs. M. D. Baldwin, who have been residents of Kalispell for many years. Charles D. Conrad is the only son of Mrs. C. B. Conrad, his father being the prominent banker and investor, C. K. Conrad, whose death occurred here over four years ago. Young Mr. Conrad is one of the directors of the Conrad bank, and also performs duty as a bookkeeper in that institution. He is largely interested in farming lands in Flathead valley and also has timber and live stock interests. Although quiet and unassuming, he is very well liked. The conjugal union and their future happiness is ideal. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Baldwin home which was transformed into a bower of beauty and fragrance and under an arch of smilax and white satin lodged the felicitations of their friends. In the receiving line beside the bride party were Major and Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. C. E. Conrad and Mrs. Alicia Conrad. The dining room was all in white and green, smilax and roses being used in great profusion. Broad white to the table ending in bows. Pure white candles gleamed from rose candle holders over by friends of the bride. The array of wedding gifts surpassed anything ever displayed here. One fine silver, cut glass, silver, china, copper and fine linen were considered over by friends of the bride. The array of wedding gifts surpassed anything ever displayed here.
