29 Oct 1909 p5- marriage

AN ELABORATE WEDDING

Tuesday evening at Christ Episcopal church Miss Leila Noffsinger, the beautiful and accomplished elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Noffsinger, became the wife of Mr. Richard Cap, a young business man of sterling qualities who, tho but a year in this city, has won personal distinction.

The wedding was "a dream." At six o'clock in the evening the bride attended by her father, preceded by matron of honor, Mrs. James Monteath, sister of the bride, and the maid of honor, Miss Catherine Monteath, bridesmaid, Miss Catherine Monteath and Miss Diabrow, two little flower girls with baskets of petals and two little ring-bearers, Jane Dickey and Irma Keith, entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March. Mrs. Farrar presiding at the organ and Mr. Rizzo playing the violin, both being such splendid musicians that the music seemed like human voices full of life and soul.

At the altar Mr. Cap and best man were waiting to receive the bride.

The double ring service was very impressive and unique. The bride without fear or trembling pledged herself with a ring as also did the groom, each making their promises in an exceptionally earnest and trusting manner.

After the ceremony the bridal party walked from the church under the glare of electric lights to the home of the bride where they were extended the "right hand" of love and esteem.

The home was very beautiful, white chrysanthemums, the favorite flower of the bride, being in evidence everywhere, together with smilax, roses and asparagus.

The guests were received in the parlor, then to the library to sign the "guest book," about two hundred enrolling.

The dining room was gracefully presided over by girl friends of the bride, and not only were the decorations beautiful, but the pretty maidens who served enhanced the beauty of the scene. Amid sweetest strains of music one looked at the wedding gifts bringing many reminiscences to the mind. The gifts were many, useful and elegant, showing the esteem of many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cap.

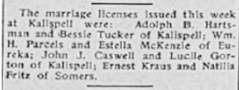

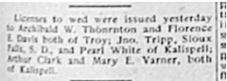

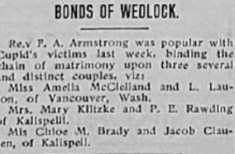

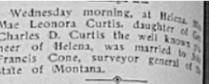

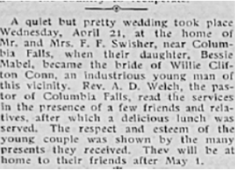

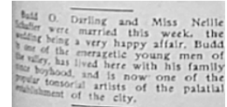

At the appointed time the bride and groom vanished and as usual a diligent search was made—unsuccessful, however, as they were well on their way to Columbia Falls in an auto of Mr. Noffsinger's, before rice was in evidence.

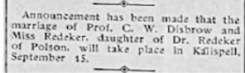

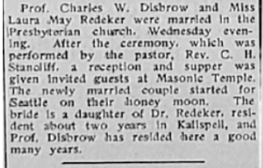

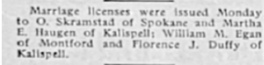

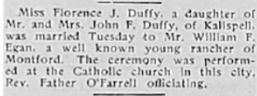

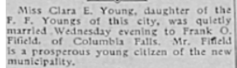

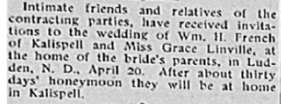

The bride was gowned in white tulle and seline carrying a huge bouquet of bride roses, gift of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cap will return to Kalspell in about two weeks to reside where they will be very welcome.

					J. H. McKlerman and Mary Houlz of Polson, were married last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Nolan Noffsinger have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mabel Luella, to Mr. James Shaw Monteath, on the evening of Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 6 o'clock, at Christ church. A reception will follow the ceremony.

A NOTABLE WEDDING.

On the evening of September 21, 1909 one of the most brilliant affairs of the social season was the marriage of Miss Mabel Noffsinger, one of Kalispell's talented young ladies particularly loved for her amiable character, to Mr. James Monteath, one of Montana's sterling young men, at Christ Episcopal church.

Such a pretty romance is here illustrated. They have been sweethearts from manhood and womanhood with the one aim to become sweethearts always.

The wish of all friends is that the matrimonial knot may always be like their earlier years, full of hope and love. Just as the whistles of the busy world blew the hour of six, to the strains of the Wedding March so well rendered by Mrs. Farrar at the organ and Prof. RIFIC with the king of instruments, the violin, the bridal party entered the handsomely decorated church.

Montana flowers and the flat cedar, from the majestic forests of Lake McDonald, kinkinick, bridal veil and sweet peas were used in profusion. Banks of white asters added their charms. The ushers attended the bridal party to the reserved seats. Mrs. Noffsinger, mother of the bride, gowned in white satin, gold trimmings, was attended by the groom's uncle Mr. Farrell of Butte. Mr. George Noffsinger, brother of the bride, and his wife, she being attired in pink silk, white trimmings; Major Monteath and wife, mother and father of the groom, Mrs. Monteath gowned in cream satin, gold trimmings, were followed by six little girls in white carrying a woven rope of flat cedar which extended from the door to the altar. Mrs. Ekkins, matron of honor, attired in pink silk, pearl trimmings; Miss Lella Noffsinger, maid of honor, attired in pink satin, white and gold trimmings; Helen Keith and Florence Farrell, carrying baskets of flowers, preceded Miss Katherine Monteath, the bridesmaid, attired in pink satin, pearl trimming, and just in advance of the bride was dear little Irma Keith bearing the wedding ring on a cushion.

The bride was accompanied by her father and was met at the altar by the groom and best man, Mr. R. C. Cap.

The beautiful ceremony of the Episcopal church was impressively performed by Rev. Green assisted by Rev. Dr. Tanner of Faribault, Minn., where the bride attended school.

Directly after the service invited guests assembled at the home of her parents to honor and wish the happy pair "God speed."

At the right of the door stood the bridal party, the bride and groom standing directly in front of a bank of white flowers and green foliage under an elaborate bow of white satin ribbon. After the usual greetings guests are asked to register in a book, made of birch bark which lay on a table surrounded by kinkinick, then to the dining room which was presided over by Mrs. Keith and Mrs. Hand, assisted by young ladies, friends and schoolmates of the bride and groom.

Most delicious refreshments were served after which you were at liberty to visit and see the many beautiful presents in the library upstairs. Here one became entranced with the beauty and elegance of the wedding gifts which exemplified the love and esteem of the donors.

The bride was attired in white satin and pearls, carrying the groom's love offerings of roses.

Groom in the conventional black.

At the close of the reception Mr. and Mrs. James Monteath departed for Seattle for their honeymoon and will return to Kalispell to reside.

Marriage license was issued this morning to A. M. Moore and Aileen Bennett, both of Kalispell.

Perfect in every detail was the beautiful wedding that took place at Christ church Tuesday evening when Miss Aileen Bennett and Mr. A. M. Moore were made man and wife in the presence of a large number of their friends. The impressive service was performed by Rev. H. M. Green.

This was a typical June wedding, decorations effectively used in the church, the maple forming a background for the beautiful fragrant blossoms. The chancel rope forming a draped arch fell from the apex of the chancel just above the wedding party. The carpet in front of the chancel rail was strewn with the little lilac blossoms.

To the strains of Mendessohn's Wedding March played by Miss Kavanaugh beginning promptly at 6:30 o'clock the bridesmaids, Miss Tate and Miss McGee, gowned becomingly in lavender-colored dresses with large picture hats and carrying shower bouquets of lilacs, accompanied by the ushers, Mr. Henry Moore and Mr. Philip Jacoby, followed by Miss Bennett, (sister of the bride) who wore a deep cream mesaline satin, empire, entrain, trimmed in gold spangled lace carrying a large bunch of double cream lilacs, wearing a large black picture hat.

Then came the bride with her father, Mr. R. M. Bennett. She was a marvelously beautiful bride, tall, stately, graceful and charmingly attired in an exquisite white lace empire dress over soft mesaline silk made entrain. A beautiful filmy wedding veil was caught by a crown of orange blossoms fell in graceful folds to the end of her train. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, maidenhair fern and lilies of the valley. At the altar the groom waited with the best man, Mr. Carl Hummer, for the coming of the bride.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of Colonel and Mrs. Moore, where a small reception was held, only a few of the intimate friends of the couple being bidden.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, the latter in a pearl gray soft satin gown trimmed in real lace entrain, and wearing becomingly a large picture hat, and a bunch of flama violets.

Then came the bride and groom, Col. Moore and his wife who wore a London smoke satin gown trimmed in beige blue and real lace with hat to match and wearing a large bunch of violets.

The rest of the wedding party stood next. Mrs. McGee, sister of the groom and Reginald Bennett completed the circle.

The home was a bower of beauty and fragrance; the floors were covered with white canvas and the walls were a mass of the beautiful blossoms. A net had been draped from the ceiling and lilacs were intertwined therein forming a perfect bank in the reception hall, parlors and dining room.

The table was laden with delicacies. White lilacs and white candles were used. The refreshments were served by a boy of charming young girl friends of the bride, prettily attired.

The bride has been here but a few years and in that time has made scores of friends who admire her for her efficiency in every way. She is a most capable girl, practical and cheerful, fun-loving, merry, kind-hearted and accomplished.

She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bennett and is one of the most popular in the young set.

The groom has lived here practically all his life and counts everyone his friend. Manly, honest, upright and sincere.

They have the best wishes of their friends who are legion.

The gorgeous display of wedding presents consisting of cut-glass, silver, furniture, table linen, china, pictures, bric-a-brac, checks, etc., is evidence of the esteem in which they are held.

The bride and groom left that same evening for the country home of the latter where they will stay until September 1, and then they will be at home to their friends in town.
