BIGGER-ANDERSON.

It was a most important affair which took Miss Nettie Bigger to Minneapolis so suddenly last week. She arrived there Tuesday morning, September 3, and that day was united in marriage to Mr. John Anderson. Both these young people have a wide circle of friends who wish them all joy and happiness in the culmination of their courtship. Mr. Anderson was with the Tenthred Point and Wall Paper company for several years, and his paintings have attracted not a little attention. The bride had been one of the efficient force at Wilson's store for some time. She is a sweet, winsome young woman, and was most popular among the young people of KallsPELL. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will return to KallsPELL in the near future to reside.

STENDEL-CHRISTENSEN WEDDING WEDNESDAY

One of the most perfect weddings ever witnessed in Kallispell was that of Miss Otelie Marie Stendal and Mr. Alf Edward Presbye Christensen, which was held at the Norwegian Lutheran church on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The church was most artistically decorated. There were festoons of kinkinick from the electrolers, interlaced with white flowers; the background was a bower of potted palms and ferns with masses of white carnations, Paris daisies and American Beauty roses. A carpet upon which had been fastened dainty ferns was placed thru the aisle and upon this the flower girls showered white daisies as the bridal party approached. The whole scheme was one of bewildering beauty and enchantment.

The wedding march announced the bridal party, which was led by the two little Weberg girls, sweet and dainty in white, scattering the flowers before the bride. Following came the attendants, Mrs. Inga Larson and Henry Christensen and Miss Nellie Welck and Ulmer Borge.

The ladies were very pretty in white gowns, carrying huge bouquets of white carnations tied with long satin ribbons. Next came the bride and bridegroom. She was exquisitely gowned in white messaline, the yoke forming a letter S in dainty hand embroidery. A veil fastened with orange blossoms fell gracefully from her head to the edge of her gown. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

The marriage service was performed by Rev. Oerthelm and it was most impressive in its solemnity.

The guests repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Henricksen where a sumptuous four-course wedding supper was served, about 175 guests partaking. There was a wealth of beautiful gifts, silent proofs of the esteem with which the newly wedded pair are held by their scores of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Christensen have gone to Pilot Park to spend the honeymoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Preatbye and other friends. They will later go to the reservation where Mr. Christensen has a fine claim near Camas.

Congdon Loen A Piers Mabel Beatrice 5 Jul 1912 p3- marriage

PRETTY WEDDING.

The many friends of Miss Mabel Piers of Fargo, N. D., who has visited her uncles, Mr. Fred Perry and Mr. Ollie Perry of this city, will be interested in reading the following account of her recent wedding which had been taken from one of the Fargo papers:

The wedding of Miss Mabel Beatrice Piers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Piers, and Mr. Loen A. Congdon, took place late today at the Broadway Methodist church, Rev. C. F. Sewrey officiating. Miss Edith Slingsby in white embroidered net over blue satin, played. The wedding music, changing from "I Love You Truly" sang by Mrs. Eugene Ellsworth to the Bridal chorus, Mrs. Ellsworth's gown was of white marquisette over taffeta. As the strains sounded forth the bridal procession headed by the two bridesmaids, Miss Jessie Cruikshank and Miss Lucy Brenier in blue crepe de chene, carrying bride's roses began their impressive march to the palm-banked altar. Miss Jennie Piers as maid of honor followed, dressed in cream meteor crepe over pink silk, and carried an empress basket of La France roses. Little Olliva Perry was flower girl in a dainty frock of white, with pink ribbons and held a little basket of pink sweet peas.

The bride entered on the arm of her father dressed in a gown of cream satin en-train, trimmed with rose point bands and her veil was caught with a spray of lilies of the valley. She held a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Professor Earl B. Putt served Mr. Congdon as best man and the ushers were Professors H. F. Bergman, C. T. Guthrie, C. J. F. Doryland and E. J. Thompson.

An elaborate collation was served at the bride's home to the bridal party and relatives. A tall basket of pink roses and vines and pink candles in crystal holders carried out the color scheme of pink and green in the dining room. Peonies, roses and palms were used in the other rooms. Mrs. Piers, mother of the bride, was in gray crepe over pink satin.

Dixon E F Black Bernice 28 Jun 1912 p5- marriage

A JUNE WEDDING.

The many friends of Miss Bernice Black of this city will be delighted to learn of her wedding which occurred on last Saturday, to Dr. E. F. Dixon of Dayton. Miss Black had been in Chicago attending to her dramatic art studies, and quite unknown to her friends, she came from that city to Missoula where she was met by the bridegroom and they were married. Mrs. Dixon was one of Kallispell's sweetest and most talented young women, and her histrionic ability gave promise for a splendid career. Dr. Dixon, who has been practicing medicine at Dayton for the past two years, is counted as one of the most able physicians in Montana. He has built up a large and lucrative practice which will be continued at the lake town where the happy pair will make their home. Hearty congratulations are extended to Dr. and Mrs. Dixon.

Erickson Milton L Jurgens Clara 8 Nov 1912 p5- marriage

JURGENS-ERICKSON.
A wedding which will be of interest to a large number of Kallspeil people occurred in Jordan, Minn., recently. The bride, Miss Clara Jurgens, is a daughter of Mr. Herman Jurgens of this city and she is a cousin of Mrs. Fred Houle and Mrs. A. N. Tobie. She has resided in Kallspeil several times and a number of friends here who were pleased to learn of her happy nuptials. Following is the account, taken from the Jordan Independent: The marriage of Miss Clara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Jurgens of Kallspeil to Milton L. Erickson of Lake Park, occurred at the home of the bride's parents, last Thursday, the 7th inst. at three o'clock in the afternoon.
The wedding was simple and unostentatious, nevertheless it had an atmosphere of dignity and good taste that made it all the more impressive and all the more to be remembered. In the select circle of relatives of the contracting parties and close personal friends of the bride who were witnesses of the ceremony, Rev. Egger of St. Paul's Lutheran church pronounced the words that made the couple man and wife, using the ring service of his church. The ring was given by a chrysanthemum, carried by Miss Wallace Morlock of Goodhue, a bridesmaid of the bride. Mrs. J. J. Shouts of Marshall, Minn., who acted as maid of honor, played the wedding march, rendering Mendelssohn's wedding march. There were no bridesmaids nor groomsmen.
The bride's gown was a beautiful creation of marquisette over messaline and real mullins lace. Her bouquet was a elegant bouquet of bride roses. The rooms of the Jurgens residence were decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums. Those invited to the wedding were immediate relatives, members of the T. V. C. club, a good representation of Jordan ladies of which the bride belonged. Refreshments were served the guests, all of whom remained at the house for a social hour with the company. The bride was soon to leave. In the distribution of wedding favors Miss Hunter of Kallspeil found the ring which was hidden in the bride's cake. Miss Louise Shouts of Marshall caught the bouquet.
The bride and groom left on the midnight train, going for a wedding trip to Duluth, Minn. They will live in Lake City, and will be at home in Kallspeil after December 1.

JUNE NUPTIALS.

One of the most interesting as well as one of the prettiest June weddings was that of Miss Margaret Bandel and P. L. Gobbert, which took place on Friday last at the German Lutheran church, Rev. Ziegler officiating. The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion under the direction of Mrs. John Miller. Beneath a huge wedding bell of green ferns and flowers the bridal party stood. They were accompanied by Matilda Bandel and Margaret Munker as maids, and the best man was William Bandel. Walter Krofs was also one of the attendants. Loenghrin's wedding march was played by Miss Annie Miller. The beautiful and impressive ring service was used in joining the happy pair in the bonds of wedlock.

Immediately after the ceremony all repaired to the home of the bride's parents where the evening was spent in merry-making, and an elaborate supper was served at midnight. The house was a profusion of flowers and artistic decorations. About 60 guests were present, and many beautiful gifts were received.

Mr. Gabbert has had charge of the German school here the past year. The bride is well known in KallsPELL and is loved for her sweet and loving disposition and many admirable traits. They will reside at 730 First avenue west.

HENDRICKS-JORDAN.
A quiet home wedding occurred at 6 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hendricks, when their daughter Vera was wedded to Mr. H. Lloyd Jordan. Rev. P. A. Armstrong tied the nuptial knot, and only the immediate family and the minister's wife were present. The bride wore a simple white wedding gown, and after the wedding breakfast, she donned a traveling suit. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan stole a march on their many friends by keeping the time of their wedding a secret, and they were well on their way on the honeymoon trip before anyone was aware that the important event had transpired. They drove to Whitefish and there took the train for Lake McDonald.
The bride is one of the most charming young women in Kalspell, and she has taken a prominent part in church and social affairs. Mr. Jordan is one of the city's exemplary men, and both have hosts of tried and true friends who wish for them all happiness and prosperity.

Juhre Alfred Lippen Harriet 19 Nov 1912 p2- marriage

Two weddings were solemnized last Thursday, both of interest to many of the Somers people. Miss Edna Pawcett, who for several years has a resident of our city when she taught the O'Brien private school, was married to a prominent man in Spokane, and we extend to them heartiest congratulations. In St. Paul, at the home of the bride's mother, the marriage of Miss Harriet Lippen to Mr. Alfred Juhre was solemnized in the afternoon. Only the family and intimate friends were present. The newly-weds will begin housekeeping in their cozy bungalow which has just been completed at 1264 Marshall avenue. Miss Lippen has made many friends here during her several visits with her sister, Mrs. M. J. Wilcox. Mr. Juhre was for three years the efficient bookkeeper for the Somers Lumber company and was one of the most popular men of our city. His numerous friends in this valley join in wishing the happy pair many years of health, wealth and happiness.

King Carlisle Clark Virginia 6 Dec 1912 p8- marriage

CLARK-KING.
The contracting parties of a most interesting wedding which took place on Wednesday evening, were Miss Virginia Clark and Mr. Carlisle King, both of this city. While it had been rumored for some time past that the wedding was coming off, still Mr. King kept the time a profound secret, which leaked out however, in time for all his friends to hear about it and be on hand shortly after the wedding. Rev. Lindley performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, and only a few friends besides the relatives, were present. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. King started for the train to go to Spokane, where they will spend a week, but they were taken in hand by a number of young men and women and for a while it seemed doubtful if they would reach the train or even see each other again.
Mrs. King only came to Kallispell last summer with her mother, and during the short time she has lived here she has made a great number of friends who are pleased over her happy wedding. Carlisle King has lived in Kallispell ever since he could walk, and no one has more good staunch friends, who wish him a life of prosperity and happiness, than he has. After their brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. King will return here to make their home.

PLUMMER-MONGAN.
 A very pretty home wedding was solemnized last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Plummer at Creston, at 4 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. Otto L. Mongan and Miss Marguerite T. Plummer.
 At the appointed hour, to the strains of the Wedding March executed by Mrs. Ida Eearle, an aunt of the bride, the bridal party descended the stairs, entered the parlor and took their places under a white bell suspended from the ceiling. The corner was made still more unique by being tastefully decorated with evergreens and beautiful potted plants with a white background, while the words which made the happy couple man and wife were pronounced by Rev. John Early, (a grandfather of the groom) in the presence of the immediate relatives only.
 Miss Nellie G. Redingshafer acted as bridesmaid and Mr. William Plummer officiated as groomsmen.
 The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white brocaded summer silk trimmed with point lace and carried a bouquet of white carnations.
 At the conclusion of the ceremony, and after congratulations had been proffered, all retired to the dining room where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served.
 The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Plummer and has resided in the county from childhood. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mongan. He is a man of exemplary habits and strict integrity. For some time he has been employed on his father's ranch, and there they will be at home to their many friends after June 15. Both have a host of warm friends who will extend hearty congratulations and who trust that they may have many years of unalloyed happiness and prosperity.
 Among the relatives from a distance were Mrs. S. A. Plummer of Okatie, Minn.; Mrs. G. Danford of Basutanna, Ark.; grandmothers respectively of the bride; Mr. Royal Plummer of Waverly, Wash.; Mr. William Plummer of Galice, Ore., brothers of the bride, and Mrs. Ida Eearle of Okatie, Minn.; also Misses Hattie and Myrtle Sawyer of Perry Point, Alta., who are cousins.

PENROD-PADGHAM.
 Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Penrod, 910 Second avenue east, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Viola Penrod and Mr. Edwin Padgham, both of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Clarence Mitchell, the nuptials being sealed by the ring service. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Mitchell. After the wedding a sumptuous wedding dinner was served to about 60 guests, the tables being set under the trees.
 The bride was most charming in her beautiful wedding gown of white muslin. She carried white carnations. There were no attendants. Mrs. Padgham is one of Kallispell's most estimable young women and for some time she has held a responsible position with Withrow & Tinkel. The bridegroom is well and favorably known in Kallispell and is a man of splendid worth. They left on the midnight train for the west on a wedding trip, after which they will return to Kallispell to reside.

Ransom Webster Disbrow Katherine 27 Sep 1912 p4- marriage

DISBROW-RANSOM.

Interesting from many standpoints was the wedding of Mr. Webster Ransom and Miss Katherine Disbrow which was solemnized at Christ church Wednesday evening, September 25, at half after eight o'clock.

Kate, as she is affectionately called by all who know her, has grown to beautiful womanhood here in Kallispell, and she is greatly beloved for her sweet and winning ways, and admired for her many capabilities.

Mr. Ransom has made a most favorable impression on all with whom he has come in contact and he is recognized as one of the best men in his profession in Montana.

The wedding is the culmination of a pretty romance which began by two persons meeting rather unexpectedly and recognizing almost at once their affinity.

The church where the service was performed had been converted into a miniature woodland, with soft draperies of greens all about, studded with white asters which looked like stars. The altar was a mass of white asters, and along the aisles and in the chancel were strewn autumn leaves.

Miss Isch at the organ and Miss Logan playing the violin, began the strains of the wedding march at the approach of the wedding party. First came Mrs. McGregor, the grandmother of the bride, and she looked sweet and lovely in her white gown and dainty lace cap. Mrs. E. S. Disbrow, the bride's mother, followed, and she also was gowned in white and wore a large white hat. The ushers, Messrs. Harshman of Spokane, Sutherland of Great Falls, Van Duzer and Givens, were followed by two of the bride's maids. Miss Gertrude Disbrow, who looked lovely in a silk gown of pale blue, and Miss Wilson, whose gown was yellow chiffon, was a picture. Miss Hazel Whitehead was maid of honor and she was most charming in a white gown with white picture hat. Mrs. George Sutherland, sister of the bride, wore her exquisite wedding gown and large white hat. Each of these ladies carried huge bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

The little son of Mrs. A. H. Britton of Whitefish bore the ring upon a pillow of blue and maize colored silk. Following him came the dearest tots, Henrietta Steinko and Kokoa Conrad, making their debuts in Kallispell society. Dressed in dainty blue with perky bows, and carrying tiny long-handled baskets filled with autumn leaves which they strewed before the bride with all the deliberation and care the auspicious occasion required, they were so dear and sweet that many eyes were filled with happy tears as they passed along the aisle. Never was there a sweeter or more charming bride than Kate as she walked slowly down the aisle accompanied by her father. Her gown was white embroidered messaline with exquisite lace trimmings. A veil, so soft and fine that it was rather a suggestion than a real veil, was fastened with a crown of orange blossoms, and her arms were filled with yellow roses. At the chancel rail she was met by the bridegroom and Dallas Disbrow, who was best man. Rev. Linley began the marriage service and then Mrs. John Thompson sang the wedding song, being accompanied on the harp by Miss Isch, and Miss Logan playing the obligato.

Before the altar they were joined in holy wedlock, the ring which sealed their vows having been especially made at Tiffany's from gold nuggets which Mr. Ransom procured from the mines at Libby. Inside were engraved the names "Katherine and Webster," and the date of their marriage.

Immediately after the departure of the wedding party, the guests went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Disbrow on Fourth avenue east, where a reception was held. The home was decorated in the same color scheme of blue and maize, these being the colors of Mr. Ransom's class at college. Refreshments of cake, ice cream and coffee were served on the porch which was screened with greens and lighted with festoons of electric lights. The long tables were decorated with mountain ash berries and leaves. The table for the bridal party was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, yellow candles shaded with blue. Here the bride cut the cake, and then hurried away to dress for the wedding journey. Mr. and Mrs. Ransom went to Columbia Falls by automobile and there took the westbound train for Spokane. After spending a few days there they will go east to New York and other cities. Upon returning they will make their home at Libby where Mr. Ransom's business interests are.

There were scores of the most exquisite wedding gifts of embroidered linens, china, silver, cut glass, beautiful blankets, and everything which is dear to the heart of a bride. From the groom's uncle, who, it is said, had a hand in making this happy match, came as a wedding gift, a check for $500 and several family heirlooms of silver and china which are very valuable. The happy pair were overwhelmed with congratulations, and they are starting in life under the most auspicious conditions.

Reeder W C Jenne Edith Sep 24 1912 p5- marriage

JENNE-REEDER.

A quiet but interesting wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hundley last evening, when their daughter, Mrs. Edith Jenne became the bride of Mr. W. C. Reeder of Spokane. This is the culmination of a happy romance which had its inception about three years ago. Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. F. A. Armstrong. The happy couple left on the train for an extended trip along the coast, and when they return, their home will be made in Spokane. Mrs. Reeder has lived in Kallispell for many years, and by her sweet, winsome ways, and strong characteristics, has made a wide circle of staunch friends who wish her a lifetime of happiness. Mr. Reeder is a man of sterling worth, and one who can give his bride all the good things in life. He has extensive land holdings and other property in the state of Washington.

Among those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hundley and child of Spokane.

For the bridal supper the bride and groom went to their new home northwest of the city.

Shacklett Ernest Wallace Frances 15 Nov 1912 p8- announcement

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED
Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Wallace formally announced the engagement of their daughter Frances to Mr. Ernest Shacklett on Wednesday evening when the members of the Gammi Phi and a number of other guests were invited to their home. The supper table was most beautiful with its decorations of pink and white carnations and streamers of pink satin ribbon. The guests found their places by daintily decorated cards, upon which were couples holding a wedding ring. Mr. Shacklett and Miss Wallace were showered with congratulations. They are to be married December 14.
Miss Wallace has grown to womanhood in Kalspell, and no young woman who has ever lived here has more friends or is more loved than she.
Mr. Shacklett has held a responsible position at the Conrad National bank for a number of years. He, too, is well known here, and has won the confidence and esteem of scores of friends by his ability and geniality. All their friends will eagerly await the happy event of their wedding.

WALLACE-SHACKLETT.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Wallace, last evening occurred the wedding of Frances to Mr. Ernest Shacklett. It was one of those simple home weddings, where the bride and bridegroom are surrounded by those dearest and nearest to them, and their most intimate friends. The corner of the living room was a bower of Christmas greens, lighted by a wedding bell of pink and white tulle. When the strains of Lohengrin, played by Miss Hunt at the piano, and Miss Logan on the violin, sounded, Mr. Shacklett, accompanied by Mr. O. Perry, took their place beneath the bell. Miss Lillian Holt followed slowly, making a sweet picture in her gown of pink mesaline and carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Then came Mr. Wallace with his charming daughter upon his arm. She was the cynosure of all eyes as she walked thru the living room. Tall and graceful, with an abundance of black hair which accentuated her dainty coloring, and gowned in the daintiest wedding dress imaginable, she was indeed beautiful. The gown was of white mesaline over which was draped shadow lace. From the shoulders fell an exquisite lace scarf. A bertha of point lace was draped about the shoulders and on the yoke was trimming of the same fine lace. A tiny wreath was placed in her hair, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.
Rev. Lindley of the Episcopal church performed the impressive ceremony which united Frances and Ernest in matrimony.
Immediately after the ceremony the guests crowded about the happy pair showering them with congratulations. The "Boys" quartette of which Ernest is a member, struck up several appropriate songs, and "all went merry as a wedding bell." The guests repaired to the dining room, where the decorations were in pink and white, and here they were served with elaborate refreshments, which were served by Miss Leopold, Miss Holt and Della Wallace.
One of the most charming people present at the wedding was Mrs. Kelley, grandmother of the bride, and her eyes were filled with joyousness because of the happiness of her girl, Frances.
Most of Mrs. Shacklett's life has been spent in Kalspell and she has always been dearly loved by scores of friends because of her unselfishness, her winning ways and her amiable disposition. She will make a charming wife and Mr. Shacklett is indeed counted as most fortunate in winning her. He has been, from the time he first reached Kalspell, one of the most popular young men here. For a number of years he has been in the employ of the Conrad National bank where he has made good.
The happy pair stole away quite unobserved at about 9:30 o'clock and left on the train for Spokane, where they will spend a few days. Upon their return they will, for the present, be domiciled at the Fernwell, where they will receive their many friends.
The wedding gifts were most beautiful and from their number one may realize the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Shacklett are held by their friends.

Simpson John P Pohl Hazel

6 Dec 1912 p8- announcement

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY.

Last evening Mrs. Pohl, assisted by Mrs. Baunty, entertained 18 young ladies, the occasion being the announcement of Mrs. Pohl's daughter Hazel, to Mr. John P. Simpson of Tacoma.

First the young ladies went to the Orpheum and upon returning to the Pohl home found the dainty lunch tables all ready.

Upon each table was a tiny Christmas tree, lighted with little green candles. The place cards were gilded cards holding tiny cupid and two scarlet hearts. Upon the hearts were the names of the engaged couple and upon the cupid was the date, "January 22, 1913."

The menu consisted of shrimp salad, pimento cheese sandwiches, olives, coffee, angel food with pale green icing, and pineapple ice with green cherries. Mints in green and white were served after the lunch. The young women repaired to the living room, where, with only the light from the grate and the green shaded candles for inspiration, sweet songs, violin music and piano selections were given. It was a most enjoyable affair, and the wedding is eagerly anticipated by Miss Pohl and Mr. Simpson's many friends.

27 Dec 1912 p8- marriage

LANG-SINCLAIR.

Christmas day seems an ideal day for a wedding, and the marriage of Miss Jessie G. Lang and Mr. Duncan J. Sinclair, which was solemnized on this day, was an ideal wedding. At the home of Mrs. M. McCarthy, 335 Third avenue east, at 5 o'clock, Rev. G. M. Fisher performed the ceremony which united the happy pair, John and Neil McCarthy were the attendants, and only the immediate relatives were present. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lang of Creston. She was the second white child born in Flathead county. She wore a beautiful gown of apricot messaline draped with shadow lace. The only ornament which she wore was a pin 300 years old, which is an heirloom.

The bridegroom is a wealthy and influential citizen of Kalotus, Washington, where he owns extensive tracts of land.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair have gone to California where they will spend the honeymoon and they will return to their home in the spring.

28 Jun 1912 p8- marriage

MOST BEAUTIFUL JUNE WEDDING AND RECEPTION

Tuesday evening at half after 8 o'clock, at the Episcopal church occurred the wedding of Mr. George Sutherland of Great Falls, and Miss Clair Disbrow of Kallispell. The church was a perfect bower of June flowers. Pink peonies, Paris daisies and carnations together with syringa and spirea, were used in profusion. The service was performed under a huge shower bouquet of spirea tied with white ribbons. To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Torkelson and Miss Logan, the bride entered the church upon the arm of her father, E. S. Disbrow. She was preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Hand, Harshman, Sutherland, Boyd, Sherwood and Ransom. Little master Sutherland, who bore the wedding ring, followed them, and then the flower girls, Jane Rhodes, Alice Thompson, Mary Colby and Mariechen Noffsinger. They looked like sweet pink roses in their dainty dresses and as they walked, pink petals were scattered in the path of the bride. The bride's maids were her sisters, Kate and Gertrude. Both were gowned in pink chiffon, and carried pink roses. The bride was more charming and beautiful than ever in her white mesaline gown and long Tilly veil, which enshrouded her like a soft mist. The gown was exquisitely embroidered after the bride's own design, and it was made in Japan where she spent two years recently. Most of the embroidery was wisteria, but to the most intimate friends was disclosed a bit of sentiment when they were shown the Scotch thistles for the groom and the bitter root blossoms for the Montana bride. The procession was met at the steps by the bridegroom and his attendant, Dr. Barth. In the beautiful service read by Rev. Lisle, the happy pair were made one for life, and as the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march began, Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland marched down the aisle of the church, the cynosure of loving friends. Immediately followed the reception at the home of the bride's parents on Fourth avenue east. Here was also a profusion of pink and white flowers. The bridal couple assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Disbrow, and the rest of the bridal party, received the guests who were lavished in their hearty congratulations. They stood beneath a Japanese lattice decorated with pink flowers and chiffon, and lighted with pink lights. The guests were served in the dining room and on the south porch which was transformed into a miniature forest by tiny fir trees. During the reception Mrs. Thompson and Miss McWhorter sang and Mr. Goddard gave several violin selections. There was a magnificent display of beautiful gifts which proved the popularity of the newly wedded pair. Mrs. Sutherland has spent the most of her life here and she has always been one of Kallispell's fairest and most beloved young women. Mr. Sutherland is one of the most popular men in Montana, where his business capabilities and integrity have won for him an enviable position.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland left by automobile after the reception for Whitefish where they took the westbound train for the coast. They will spend several weeks in Alaska and return to Montana by the first of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis are both well known here and they have the congratulations of their many friends.

Trekell Edward Leslie Nellie Elizabeth 21 Jun 1912 p8- marriage

A JUNE BRIDE.
At the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Leslie, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Nellie Elizabeth Leslie and Charles Edward Trekell. The house was a bower of snowballs, carnations and ferns. Pedestals, graduated in size from large to small ones, and covered with white and pink flowers and foliage, formed the space where the bridal party took their places when the wedding march, played by Miss Cornellson, was begun. The bride was attended by her sister, Marie Leslie, and the best man was a brother of the bridegroom, Harry Trekell. The bride was charmingly beautiful in an ivory satin gown, en train, with a long filmy veil held by lilies of the valley, falling softly over it. In her arms she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was very sweet in pink chiffon with a bouquet of pink carnations. Immediately after the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Huxley, the guests were served with dainty refreshments, where the color scheme of pink and white was carried out. It was one of those beautiful home weddings at which only relatives and one's most intimate friends are bidden; where happiness and joy are everywhere apparent, and where the sacred impressions received are ever enduring. After July 25, Mr. and Mrs. Trekell will be at home at Bigarm where everything is in readiness for the bride upon a splendid homestead. All their friends are extending hearty congratulations and best wishes to the happy pair.
