McCarthy Jr., and one sister, Miss Grace. Her father, John E. McCarthy, was an early settler in the Flathead, and died about eight years ago.

Another fatality occurred at the Somers Lumber company's logging camp at Swan lake last Friday. According to reports, a stranger by the name of Jim Murphy came down to the camp in the morning to visit with a friend. The friend in a joking manner said that while he (Jim Murphy) was there he might as well 'get busy', so the unfortunate man began to chop the stakes on a loaded flat car and one of the top logs rolled off and struck him in the back. He didn't think the injury was serious but Mr. Ballard finally persuaded him to go to the hospital and shortly after reaching there he died. Dr. Nelson was called but before he arrived, the man was stricken.

JERRY PHILLIPS DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Jerry Phillips succumbed yesterday morning at 9:00 o'clock to an illness of dropsy with which he has been afflicted for the past two years. The death came suddenly while Mr. Phillips was engaged in eating his breakfast in his room above his place of business. The deceased was 68 years of age.

While the news of his death was a shock to the many friends of Jerry Phillips, still it was not unexpected. He spent the past winter in California but the lower altitude did not seem to effect any improvement.

Mr. Phillips came to the Flathead a quarter of a century ago from British Columbia. He engaged in the saloon business on First avenue west, conducting a pool room and lodging house in connection. Whatever may have been his faults, Jerry Phillips was not the hard-hearted, grasping villain that is so often pictured as a "saloon-keeper". He was always ready to give a man the price of a meal, or a bed, and no matter who might have been in trouble, he found a friend and counsellor in Jerry Phillips. Many a lumberjack will brush a tear from his eye when he learns of the death of the man who has befriended him in his dingy pool hall or saloon, when all the rest of the town (but the jails) was closed on him.

The nearest surviving relatives are a daughter, Mrs. J. M. McCallahan, of Iona, Michigan, a brother, Robert, and sister, Fannie, of Great Falls, and another sister in lower California. The body has been prepared for burial by Undertaker J. E. Waggener, and the service will be held upon the arrival of the relatives, all of whom are en route.

JOHN REED.

John Reed, one of the state's earliest pioneers, died Thursday morning at the Sisters' hospital, aged about 80 years. He came to Montana in the early '60's and at the time of his death had rounded out 55 years in the state. He came to Flathead county 30 years ago in April and has since made his home with J. T. Hartt, west of the city, with whom he has lived until stricken with paralysis Wednesday, when he was removed to the hospital.

He has no known relatives. The funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, from the Catholic church.

WILLIAM REED DIES AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

Today in a lonesome corner of the Potter's field was buried the remains of a friendless man. No bereaved ones mourned the last sad rites; no minister offered a prayer. As the frozen clods clanked down upon the plain wooden box, there was written and sealed in the book of time the last chapter of an ill-spent life.

For sixteen years Bill Reed has been a familiar figure on the streets and in the saloons of Kalispell. He was his own worst enemy. When he had money he spent it freely over the bar, and was a good fellow with all the boys. But when the day came that Bill no longer had money, his friends forsook him. Crazed with the thirst for liquor, he stole a roll of blankets. He was arrested, tried before justice court and sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail.

Although not totally denied him, Reed was given only enough liquor while in jail to keep him quiet. It is not the policy of the officers to deprive a drunkard or dope fiend entirely of the stimulant which their system demands. But the portion is gradually reduced until cures are sometimes accomplished.

Reed finally refused to take any more whiskey and on Sunday completely lost his senses. To all appearances he was a raving maniac. Becoming alarmed at his condition, Sheriff Metcalf sent his charge to the county hospital where he died early yesterday morning. The reaction from alcohol was deadly and sure.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ripke took place from the Holt church, last Friday, at 2 p. m. The church was filled to overflowing with the neighbors and friends of the family. Rev. Ginn of Somers, preached the funeral sermon and the choir sang some of Mrs. Ripke's favorite hymns. Interment was in the Lone Pine cemetery. A faithful wife, a good mother and a true friend, she has left behind her a large circle who feel her loss keenly and offer heartfelt sympathy to the family who are left to mourn her loss.

Smith occurred at the Macdonald hospital Wednesday evening, where she was removed recently to be treated for heart trouble, which was the final cause of dissolution, although she had been suffering from a complication of diseases, and some time past submitted to several operations at Mayo brothers' hospital at Rochester, Minnesota. Beside her husband, Mrs. Smith is survived by six children, Humphrey, Eileen, William, Richard, Philip and Kathleen, who is now with relatives in England. Mrs. Smith was a native of Ireland, having been born in the County Cork, 51 years ago. She was married at her old home in 1890, the family coming to Minnesota soon after. They lived in that state for 9 years, when they returned home for a visit. They soon after returned to this country, coming to the Flathead valley 12 years ago, and have made many warm friends, who deeply sympathize with the family in their grief. PIONEER SETTLER GONE TO LAST REST

Donald A. Stewart better known to his many friends as "Dan" passed away at the Kalispell Hospital at 11 o'clock Saturday night. Dan Stewart was one of the sturdy pioneers of the valley, having settled here in 1884. He came to Montana in 1865 and was engaged in mining at various points until he moved to Missoula and later to the Flathead. He was of Scotch parentage and was born on the ocean in 1842 when his parents were enroute to Canada. When a lad of seventeen he went to New York where he learned the machinists trade and when only 22 started for Montana with a company of 50 of whom three were women. The trip was made overland from St. Joe, Mo., and among other hardships the party lost several wagons including the one belonging to young Stewart in crossing the Platte river.

Dan Stewart was noted for his plain spoken honesty and steadfast loyalty to his friends. He was a man of frugal habits, but was always generous to his friends and to those whom he considered deserving. He was unmarried and for many years has lived with his partner Sam Poole, on their 320 acre ranch in Smith valley about 6 miles west of Kalispell. He was in failing health for some time, but was only in the hospital a few days.

Mr. Stewart's only known relative is a nephew who resides in Canada, and who is expected to attend the funeral which will be held at 1 o'clock Tuesday from the Waggener undertaking parlors.

AGED MAN MAY BE A SUICIDE

DISAPPEARS WITH GUN, SAYING
HE INTENDS TO "WIND
IT UP."

Information was brought to Kalispell today of the possible suicide of the father of A. D. and Horace Stillman of Pleasant valley. While passing through on his way from Wolf creek, Mr. Harmon learned that Mr. Stillman disappeared Tuesday evening, leaving a note saying that he intended "to wind it up." He had been in unusually good health and spirits of late, but had often remarked that he intended to do away with himself when he had reached the age where he was helpless. Mr. Stillman is 87 years of age, and is unusually well preserved for a man of his years, but it is supposed that he considered that he had not much longer to live, and his fear of becoming helpless preyed upon his mind.

He made his home with A. D. Stillman, and the family all had dinner together at noon Tuesday. After the meal the aged man went to a shop, apparently to tinker about as had been his custom, and no further attention was paid to it until about 6:00 o'clock, when it was found that he was missing. In his room was found the note, and his gun was missing from its place. Searching parties at once started out, but up to Thursday no trace of the missing man had been found.

FATALLY BURNED.

(Whitefish Pilot, Jan. 28.)

Mrs. J. St. Johns was fatally burned last Saturday by the explosion of a coal oil can while starting a fire in the kitchen stove at her home on Second street.

She was taken to the hospital where her injuries were given immediate attention, but all efforts were in vain, and she died last night. At the time of going to press the funeral arrangements are not known, as word is expected from a sister at Howard, Minnesota. Another sister from Spokane, arrived here before her death.

ONE DEAD AND ANOTHER DEAD DRUNK

CLASPED IN ARMS OF DEAD PARTNER
BOOZE FIGHTER HAS AWFUL AWAKENING.

Libby, Oct. 28.—Andrew Tang, 35 years old, a lumber piling contractor, of Fortine, was found dead in a barn here this morning, the end of a spree which started September 1. For the last week he had been lying in the barn too weak to move and drinking steadily. John Erickson had been making regular trips to a saloon, spending the last few dollars the sick man possessed, and carrying the liquor to him.

When found by Police Chief Maguire, the dead man's arms and legs were entwined about the body of Erickson, who lay beside the corpse in a stall of the barn, in a drunken stupor. The two had hugged each other to keep warm. It was with some difficulty that Coroner Gault separated the living body from the dead. Erickson sobered by his terrible experience, and filled with remorse for supplying the liquor demanded by his friend, was given orders by the police to leave the town.

Tang came to America from Sweden about four years ago and had become fairly well-to-do in Fortine as a partner of Charles Swanson, when he started drinking. He died penniless, and was buried by the county. According to the coroner, heart failure caused his death.

KILLED ON FIELD OF BATTLE.

Gacougnolle came to Kalispell a number of years ago, and was quite well known. He was a nurseryman by trade and was at one time employed by the King-Thurman people, later buying a tract from them. He also taught classes in French in a number of families. He left here about a year ago to visit his mother in France. Mr. Therriault recently wrote him, and received a letter from the unfortunate man's mother saying that her son was killed at Guise in the battle of Aisne on August 28.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN RAILROAD YARD
The body of an unidentified man about fifty years of age was found just about noon today in the railroad yards, by a train crew. Coroner Waggoner was notified and took charge of the body. He states that the man had evidently been dead since about nine o'clock last night, and from all appearances had simply overloaded with booze. He had rolled down the embankment about one hundred yards the other side of the coal shutes, and on the south side of the track. There were no papers or other means of identification, and the clothing were those of a lumberjack. Unless identification results, interment will be made at the county's expense.

BODY IS DISCOVERED FLOATING IN RIVER

DISTINCTLY SEEN BY FISHING
PARTY NEAR LA SALLE — REMAINS NOT LOCATED.

The dead body of what is believed to have been a woman was discovered floating down the Flathead river near LaSalle, Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bethel, and Harry Bethel, who were fishing near the Metcalf place.

A jam of logs had occurred at that point, from which the party was fishing. The water was quiet near the jam, and they distinctly saw the body floating down, about 10 or 12 feet below the surface, and about two feet from the bottom. It was face downward, but they believed it to be the body of a woman, dressed in a white shirt waist and dark skirt. The waist seemed looser than a man's shirt would be, which led to the belief, although the lower part of the body was out in the current, where it was not so plainly visible. Harry Bethel ran around to the end of the jam, and watched for the body for two hours, but saw nothing go down the river.

Coroner Waggener was notified and he and a party of four worked over the jam with poles without success. It was evening before the coroner arrived, and he is of the opinion that if the body missed the jam and went down the river it is very doubtful if it will ever be found. He states that he has done a great deal of work on the river searching for bodies, but has never recovered one.

So far as can be learned no one is missing, and the lumber camps report that all their men are accounted for.
