JOHN C. TISDALE

John C. Tisdale passed away suddenly Saturday evening at his ranch near the Holt Ferry following a fainting spell.

Mr. Tisdale had been in his usual health and had worked in the hay field all day. He was taken with a dizzy spell as he came in with his team and it is believed his death was due to the heat and over-exertion. A physician was called and he was placed in the car to be brought to town for medical care, but died almost as soon as he was lifted into the car. Mr. Tisdale was 64 years of age and had lived in the Flathead valley for the past 40 years where he had been engaged in farming.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Waggener & Campbell funeral chapel, followed by interment in Conrad Memorial cemetery. A brother residing in Longview, Washington has been notified and will arrive to attend the funeral.

The people of Bigfork were shocked Saturday evening to hear of the death of Jack Tisdale, an oldtimer in Bigfork. He had been working in the hay field all day. About 5 o'clock he fell off the load of hay down behind the horses which frightened them. They ran and he got several bruises but the doctor called said that his fall was caused by a heart attack. He passed away about 7 p. m. His sister, Mrs. Mixer and his housekeeper, Mrs. Lena Burkhart, were at his home. Friends gathered quickly and did all they could but to no avail.

DEATH OF TRESCH DUE TO DROWNING, CORONER DECIDES

The decision of Coroner Campbell this morning was that Joseph Tresch who was drowned while on a fishing trip in the North Fork Sunday, came to his death as a result of drowning, rather than a pre-supposed assumption that he had suffered a heart attack while wading the stream. Pronouncement of the cause of his death came after a careful examination had been made.

Tresch's body was found yesterday forenoon by Sheriff C. A. Robinson and those assisting him, in a deep hole about 30 yards below the point where he had been seen to collapse and disappear in the swift current.

It was determined that the water where Mr. Tresch had been wading was about three feet deep and very rapid. He was undoubtedly swept from his feet and was unable to recover himself, Coroner Campbell said.

JOSEPH TRESCH

Funeral services for Joseph Tresch will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Waggen-er & Campbell chapel by Rev. Father O'Farrell, followed by interment in the Conrad Memorial cemetery.
