Ivah E. Armstrong, 84

Ivah E. Armstrong, 84, Whitefish, died Oct. 7 of natural causes at Colonial Manor in Whitefish. 1991

She was born May 15, 1907, in Denver, Colo., the daughter of Mont and Mary Winton. She was raised and educated in the Denver area.

In 1923, Ivah married her childhood sweetheart, Clinton E. Armstrong. They had grown up as neighbors, and were together from infancy through old age. The Armstrongs moved from Denver to southern California in 1926, and spent the majority of their life in the Orange County area.

Ivah worked at several jobs over the years, including owning and operating a restaurant, a nursery and a ceramic manufacturing business. In addition to raising her own family, the Armstrongs took in a one-year-old half-sister and Ivah's father, who both lived with them for many years.

Although Clinton and Ivah were active in the Elks for many years, their greatest pleasures were derived from and with children, whom Ivah always quickly befriended. To be remembered as a kind and sweet old grandmother by many children was perhaps Ivah's greatest wish.

Her husband preceded her in death in 1979, and she had lived in Whitefish for the past year, entering the Colonial Manor in August. She was also preceded in death by her parents, three brothers and her only daughter.

Surviving family members include two sons, C.S. "Butch" Armstrong of Whitefish, and David E. Armstrong of Vista, Calif.; two sisters, Norma Wright of Denver and Angie Hubert of San Juan Capistrano, Calif.; 16 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and many other relatives.

Private memorial services will be conducted by the family at a later date. The Weatherford Funeral Home & Crematory is in charge of arrangements.

In lieu of flowers, take the time to smile and say "hello" to a child. Ivah would be happy.

Jessie moved to Columbia Falls in 1980 to live with her daughter, Agnes Hoon, and in September 1987 moved to the Extended Care Unit in Whitefish.

Jessie had many talents, and shared them with all that wanted to learn. She took great pride in her flowers and vegetable gardens, always canning and preserving all she could to be used in her love of cooking and creating many new recipes.

She made many quilts that her family will treasure for years. Her crocheted doilies and other pieces are enjoyed by all who received them.

Her last few years she enjoyed living at North Valley Extended Care in Whitefish. She made many friends and learned new activities that she hadn't had the time for before.

Her Bible had been a great comfort to her and her stay on Earth enriched many lives and she will be missed.

Jessie is now survived by one daughter and son-in-law, Agnes and Ray Hoon of Columbia Falls; one son and daughter-in-law, Robert E. and Midori Melsten of Tacoma, Wash.; five grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandchild; one sister, Bessie McNeal of Colfax, Wash.; one brother, Robert McDowell of Edmonds, Wash.; and a number of other relatives.

Funeral services will be today at 5 p.m. at the Austin Funeral Home in Whitefish with the Rev. Darrell Newby of the Assembly of God Church of Columbia Falls officiating. Burial will be in Mountain View Memorial Park Cemetery in Tacoma, Wash.
