1992 Ole B. Dalen, 76

Ole B. Dalen, 76, of Franklin, W. Va., died Jan. 16 at the University of Virginia Medical Center in Charlottesville, where he underwent open heart surgery Jan. 10.

Mr. Dalen was born April 17, 1915, at Wardner, British Columbia, and was the son of the late Ole and Berthina Hanson Johanson and a stepson of the late Arne Dalen.

He was a retired farmer and a member of the Franklin Presbyterian Church. He also was a member of the VFW, American Legion and the 10th Mountain Division.

Mr. Dalen was an outdoorsman, a lover of nature, an excellent skier and a proficient rock climber. He was the first certified ski instructor in the state of Montana.

He was a veteran of World War II and early in his service he was an Army ski instructor at Mount Rainier, Wash., and later on the Columbian Ice Field on the border of British Columbia and Alberta and at Camp Hale, Colo. He later was transferred to Seneca Rocks in Pendleton County where he served as an instructor in rock climbing.

As a staff sergeant in Company F 87th Mountain Infantry, 10 Mountain Division, he participated during the Italian Campaign in 1945, in the battles of Vidiciatico, Mont Belvedere-Riva Ridge, Mont Della Vedetta, Mont Della Piella, Tarre Tussi, Mosca Ridge and Mont

Serra "Bloody Ridge" where he lost his right arm. In the Battle of Mont Serra, after his company took an elaborate fortification stone house and as he was preparing to toss a hand grenade, his right arm was struck by machine gun fire. Lying behind a stone wall, he located the pressure points above the wounds and held them with his other hand for several hours until he was joined by a buddy who removed his arm with a knife and dragged him to safety on a blanket.

Dalen was awarded two Purple Hearts and the Bronze Star.

Though handicapped, Mr. Dalen worked many years as a ski instructor at The Big Mountain and as an assistant director of the Sepp Kober Ski School at the Homestead at Hot Springs, Va. He also became a proficient carpenter and furniture maker and he operated a livestock farm.

On May 6, 1946, he married Mary Curry Dyer, who survives at Franklin.

Also surviving are one daughter, Andrea Larrivee of Makarora, New Zealand; one son, John Dalen of Franklin; three sisters, Arlene Field and Minnie Pike, both of Whitefish, and Mary Collier of Coulee Dam, Wash.; one brother, Harold Dalen of Whitefish; and two grandchildren.

The Rev. Charles Reller and the Rev. Patrick Velanzone conducted the funeral on Jan. 20 at the Franklin Presbyterian Church, and interment was by Kimble Funeral Home in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Instructors of the Sepp Kober Ski School at the Homestead served as active pallbearers.

1997 Gordon R. DeGolier, 77

Gordon R. DeGolier, 77, died of cancer at home in Kalispell on Aug. 18.

Gordon was born Jan. 1, 1915, in Norma, N.D., to Ralph and Bertha Porter DeGolier. His mother died when Gordon was 11 months old and he was then raised by his father and stepmother, Elizabeth Seekins DeGolier.

Gordon finished his education in Norma, and then moved to northwest Montana. He enlisted in the U.S. Army in September, 1940, in Missoula, and was honorably discharged in July of 1945 as First Sergeant.

Gordon returned to the Flathead Valley after his discharge from the Army and worked on farms, in the woods, on Hungry Horse Dam, and various other jobs until being employed by the Anaconda Aluminum Co. (now known as CFAC) in Columbia Falls in 1955. He worked there until his retirement in June of 1978.

Gordon married his adored wife, Jewel Blades, on Nov. 30, 1946, in Polson. He is survived by her at the family home, as well as a son, Ralph DeGolier, of Kalispell, and two daughters, Gail Barranger and husband, Tom, and Gloria Shirliff and husband, Ron, all of Kalispell. He is also survived by his beloved grandchildren, Rob DeGolier of Phoenix, Ariz., Brynn and Kyle Barranger and Andy and Krystal Shirliff, all of Kalispell; special friend, Bonnie Betzler, of Kalispell; and numerous sisters and brothers-in-law and nieces and nephews.

After his retirement, Gordon and his wife traveled extensively until the last year, when he became ill. He loved listening to the news on the radio and loved working in his yard. Even after becoming blind in the 1970s, he kept his half-acre lawn and garden immaculately mowed and groomed. He was always a loving and caring person and enjoyed visiting with his many friends, relatives, and his grandchildren.

Gordon was a member of the Moose Lodge No.1922, Eagles Aerie No. 234, VFW Post 2252, and was a recently baptized member of Epworth Methodist Church.

Gordon was preceded in death by his parents; stepmother; brothers Neil DeGolier of Polson and Harlan DeGolier of Milwaukee; as well as his step siblings, Alice DeGolier, Ida Keute, and Bill and Ed Seekins.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at United Epworth Methodist Church, with the Rev. Marvin Northcutt officiating. Burial will be at Conrad Memorial Cemetery, where military honors will be conducted by United Veterans of the Flathead.

Friends may call at Johnson Mortuary for visitation from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. Thursday.

1992 John Louis deYong, 77

John Louis deYong, 77, Kalispell, died in Brendan House on Feb. 11.

He was born June 23, 1914, in Somers a son of George and Bessie deYong. He received his elementary education at Egan School and was a graduate of Flathead High School class of 1932.

On Oct. 11, 1939, he married Eunice Westerhaus. The couple lived in the Egan Community all 52 years of their married life. They owned and operated a dairy and grain farm.

During his 30 years as a dairy farmer, he served as president of the Flathead Dairy Producers organization, was a director of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association and was a director and secretary of the local unit of the American Dairy Association.

He served 24 years as a director of Cenex Farmer's Union Exchange and was vice president and chairman of the board for many years. He also served as a director and chairman for the board of Kalispell Community Federal Credit Union and president of the Holt Stage Road and Bridge Maintenance Association.

He was a long time member of the First Presbyterian Church, Kalispell, where he had served as elder and deacon.

He was preceded in death by his parents; six sisters,

Mrs. Adolph (Anna) Pederson, Mrs. Russell (Mable) Whitefield, Bertha Bergstrom, Mrs. Cecil (Susie) Smith, Mrs. Donald (Gertrude) Rice, and Susan, who died in childhood, and three brothers, Peter, Henry and William.

He is survived by his wife, Eunice, at the family farm; two daughters, Ronda Huggins of Citrus Heights, Calif., and Linda and her husband, Robert D. Lee, of Kalispell; two brothers, Max, of Pincher Creek, Alberta, and George of Stratford, Okla.; two granddaughters, Marci and Jami Lee; and numerous nieces, nephews and cousins.

John was in the process of writing stories relating to events and people of the Egan Community, which he intended as a legacy. His writings reflect in detail his love of life, and pride and interest in his farm and community.

To those who knew him, John was an inspiration and an example of commitment, as he faithfully fulfilled his purpose in life.

Funeral services will be conducted at First Presbyterian Church, Kalispell, on Saturday at 1 p.m. with the Rev. Larry Gaylord officiating. Burial will be in Conrad Memorial Cemetery.

Friends may call at Johnson Mortuary until 6 p.m. on Friday for visitation.

The family suggest memorials be made to First Presbyterian Church, Kalispell, or the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 1002, Kalispell.

Clara Belle Dierman, 66

Clara Belle Dierman, 66, died of a heart attack on July 25, 1992.

She was born to Clarence and Inez Dierman on Oct. 31, 1925, in Eureka and has resided there for her lifetime.

She graduated from the local high school and went to Bozeman for nurse training. Her mother was in a car accident and Clara withdrew from her schooling to care for her mother. She continued to live in the same home for 60 years and rendered service to many who came to her door for help of any kind.

The medical profession played a predominant part of her life and she served on the ambulance service since the mid-50s, when the family car was used as an ambulance. She delivered many babies, saved lives using CPR in the later years, assisted in giving first aid courses, gave assistance to anyone coming to her home for help, and never stopped in her studies for updated medical knowledge. She reached the five-gallon contribution to the Red Cross blood drawing and only stopped giving blood because of her medication.

Her love of animals was very pronounced and in former years her home was used as a depository for sick animals until the veterinarian could arrive from Kalispell.

Clara has been a member of the Rebekah Lodge since the mid-40s, the Tobacco Valley Improvement Association and received a community service award in 1970, a member of the County Democrat Committee, the Cemetery Board, and the Montana Emergency Medical Services Association. She was a training instructor for the ambulance group since 1965, a certified CPR instructor, a standard first aid instructor, and a member of the Tobacco Valley Disaster Service for the American Red Cross.

Clara leaves a sister, Viola Lyons, of Chewelah, Wash.; a niece, Ginger Zibell, of Chewelah; a nephew, Tracie Lyons, of Tacoma, Wash.; cousins, Frank Dierman of Eureka and Mary Ann Rutter of Phoenix, Ariz.; and many grand nieces, nephews and cousins, besides a host of grieving friends.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Eureka Ambulance fund.

Phyllis J. Dille, 52

Phyllis J. Dille, 52, formerly of Greybull, Wyo., died Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1992, at her daughter's home in Marion, where she moved to spend the final weeks of her courageous bout with cancer.

She was born Jan. 30, 1940, in Livingston, to Eldon and Anita Stewart. She was raised and attended high school in Livingston.

On Dec. 12, 1955, she married Ramon Dille in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, where they lived until moving to Plains in 1966.

Phyllis was a wonderful wife and mother, and enjoyed working at the hospital in Plains. She spent the past 10 years operating a small motel in Greybull.

One of her greatest joys was spending time with all of her family, which includes three grandchildren. She also enjoyed the outdoors, dancing, music, and playing darts in a league.

Surviving family members include her husband of 37 years, Ramon, now of Marion; a daughter, Juanita Howard, of Marion; three sons, Stuart of Bozeman, and Vernon and Charlie, both of Marion; her mother and stepfather, Anita and John Sundquist, of Plains; three sisters, Alice Blocker of Spokane, Wash., Mary Welk of Post Falls, Idaho, and Shirley Petersen of Scottsdale, Ariz.; two brothers, Chuck Stewart of Billings and Jim Stewart of Springfield, Mo.; three grandchildren and a number of other relatives.

She was preceded in death by her father, Eldon Stewart.

Services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at Weatherford Funeral in Kalispell with the Rev. Marvin Northcutt, pastor of Epworth United Methodist Church, officiating.

Memorial contributions are suggested to Flathead Hospice, 1280 Burns Way, Kalispell.

Autopsy shows drug overdose

Flathead County Sheriff Jim Dupont said today the death of Sarah Douglas, 40, of Hungry Horse, Wednesday "appeared to be a drug overdose."

He said the toxicology report was not back from an autopsy Wednesday afternoon, "but I'm 90-percent sure it was not foul play."

The autopsy was ordered because of what the sheriff called extenuating circumstances and ongoing domestic concerns.

The autopsy was done at the state crime lab.
