Philip Trablik, 75

Philip Earl Trablik, 75, of Kalispell, died at the Kalispell Regional Hospital early Saturday, Nov. 6, 1993, of cancer.

He was born Oct. 18, 1918, in a sod house on the Trablik Ranch, 20 miles south of Goodland, Kansas. He was the third child of Frank E. and Evalina Trablik.

He and his siblings walked or rode horseback six miles to a one-room schoolhouse. If they happened to dawdle on the way home, the first howl from the coyotes would put them on their doorstep in record time — short of breath.

He was inducted into the Army March 10, 1942, at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. He was assigned to the 707th Tank Battalion. He drove a medium tank through northern France, the Rhineland, Ardennes and central Europe. During the Battle of the Bulge, he and his crew were the last tank out. They were given the precise order: You're on your own.

He married Rebecca Mayer on Sept. 4, 1948, in Scott City, Kansas. They lived on a cattle ranch south of Goodland until drought sent them to Big Sky Country in January, 1953. He worked at the Krause Lumber Mill from 1953 until it closed in 1967. He started on the greenchain and worked up to head saw operator and mechanic. He worked at Kal-Mont Lumber mill until 1979, when he was forced to retire because of ill health.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Columbia Falls. He lost the battle against cancer on Nov. 6, 1993, but won the way into the presence of his Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ.

He is survived by his wife, at home; sister Thelma Gemmer and her husband, Rudy, in Goodland; brother V.R. Trablik, of Goodland; three nieces and their sons and daughters.

A funeral is scheduled 2 p.m., Wednesday at Johnson Mortuary Chapel, with Rev. Jerry Buchanan, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be at Conrad Memorial Cemetery. The family suggests memorials to the First Baptist Church.

Hans P. Tutvedt, 94

Hans P. Tutvedt, 94, Kalispell, died at Immanuel Lutheran Home on Sunday morning, Sept. 12, 1993.

He was born Sept. 5, 1899, in Larvik, Norway, and was the 12th and youngest child of Telefine and Mathias Tutvedt. He was baptized and confirmed in the Hedrum Lutheran Church and attended school at Hedrum. Hans graduated from the Fosness Agriculture College at Tonberg, Norway.

On May 10, 1921, he sailed from Norway to America and came to Galata, Mont., where he farmed with his brothers, Pete and Martin, and he also worked in the woods at Lupfer and Olney.

He was married to Andora Stabbestad on Sept. 20, 1925, at Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Kalispell. They started farming in the Stillwater community in 1929 and in 1931 they moved to the farm that they later bought and where they lived for 58 years. They celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary Sept. 20, 1990.

He was a faithful member of Stillwater Lutheran Church ever since they moved into the community and where he served many years as a trustee. Hans helped install the bell from Stillwater School to Stillwater Lutheran Church, and he rang the bell on Sunday mornings for many years.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Equity Supply Co. for 24 years and also served on the advisory board of the Kalispell Regional Hospital and as a member of the Northwest Montana Fair Board. He measured land for the ASCS in the early '40s and was a charter member of Stillwater Grange and also of Fedraheimen Lodge 140 of the Sons of Norway.

Hans was a good farmer and steward of the land, and all his life he appreciated seeing good crops in the fields and watching things grow. He also enjoyed gardening and taking care of his fruit trees.

He loved his family, his church and his farm and also his many friends.

He was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Andora, on Feb. 12, 1991; and also by two grandsons.

He is now survived by two daughters, Thelma and her husband, Vernon Johnson, of Kalispell, and Doris Knox and her husband, Dick, of Winifred; his sons, Harold and his wife, Shirley, and Paul and his wife, Sharon, all of Kalispell; 15 grandchildren; 25 great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandson; and numerous nieces and nephews and other relatives.

Private family burial will be held in Glacier Memorial Gardens. Memorial services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Stillwater Lutheran Church with the Rev. Wilsdon officiating.

Friends may call at Johnson Mortuary for visitation until 8 p.m. today.

The family suggest memorials to the Immanuel Lutheran Home or the Stillwater Lutheran Church.
