Bill Heinecke, 79

Bill Heinecke, 79, husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, leaves our world for a better place having made extraordinary contributions for nearly eighty years.

An Idaho-born Californian, he fell in love with the Flathead Valley when he married Rosalie Brinkman of Kalispell. They were married for 56 years.

He attended Chaffey Junior College in Ontario, Calif., and served the country in World War II as an Army Air Corps pilot.

He joined the firm of Brinkman and Lenon, Architects and Engineers, after graduating with honors from Montana State University in 1951 with a degree in mechanical engineering.

In 1961, he and Harry Schmautz became senior partners of the firm. Some of their projects include the Logan Pass and Saint Mary's Visitor Centers in Glacier Park, the Summit House and Lodge at the Big Mountain, Glasgow Air Force Base, Flathead High School and many other state and local buildings.

He loved Kalispell, and always loved to participate in decision-making processes aimed at making Kalispell a better place. He and his wife were co-winners of the Great Chief Award for their extraordinary contributions to Kalispell.

His civic contributions include 35 years of service on the Flathead Airport Authority where he was instrumental in securing air carrier service for the Flathead Valley, and many airport improvement projects.

He successfully chaired the local organization of two presidential visits. He served on the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers for many years. He also served on the Kalispell School Board, the Board of Adjustments, and the Boy Scouts. He had a short stint on the city Government Study Commission. He was a long-time member of Rotary where again he showed his devotion to the community.

He also spent many, many hours timing local high school track and ski races, including Junior and Senior National events. He, along with others, created the Santa Village in Depot Park.

His love of the Flathead was only matched by his love to laugh. On many occasions, he could be found in front of the television laughing at cartoons. He always laughed harder than his grandchildren. His distinguishable laugh and his overall sense of humor were contagious. One of his favorite movies was "Paint Your Wagon" where he caused hysteria in the entire movie theater, nearly falling off the balcony in the process.

He treasured spending time outdoors with his kids while hunting and fishing. When asked about fishing, he would respond, "Fishing is always great. Some days the catching is better than others."

He is survived by his wife Rosalie; son Bill and wife, Barrie, of Helena, and their children Jake of Dillon, Bill and wife Lisa, and their children Jason, Stacie and Tracie of Seward, Alaska; son John of Phoenix, his children Lacey of Bozeman and Kyle of Kalispell; son Rob of Kalispell; and son Tom and wife, Terry, and their son Taylor of Kalispell; brother John of Marysville, Calif.; and sister Mary Hoy in Rancho Mirage, Calif.

He was a great man. His family will miss him deeply, as will the community. God speed, Bill Heinecke, you've helped make Kalispell truly "The Last Best Place."

The mantle of moral courage and responsible citizenship now passes to the next generation.

Cremation has taken place. Following a private family interment, a memorial service will be held at Christ Church Episcopal at 1 p.m.

Memorials can be made to Special Olympics, P.O. Box 916 Kalispell, MT 59903 or to a charity of choice.
